Foreword

Buildings topple as wrecking balls swing . . .

Workmen clear debris . . .

Skyscrapers rise . . .

Parks replace slums . . .

Cobblestone streets give way to rivers of concrete . . .

Steel and sweat, bricks, brains, and brawn create hospitals . . .

Bridges . . .

Office buildings . . .

Churches . . .

Schools . . .

Not in the buildings alone is Pittsburgh's rebirth mirrored. Buildings are simply one step. Inspired ideas and dynamic leadership bring about another type of building—cultural, spiritual, and intellectual.

Medical facilities expand and are coordinated . . .

Research wages war on disease . . .

Scientists smash atoms for productive purposes . . .

Art institutions sponsor exhibitions . . .

Citizens support symphonies and opera (light and grand) . . .

Television educates and entertains . . .

Universities broaden offerings . . .

Churches awaken new spiritual responses . . .

Civic pride replaces lack of interest . . .

The Steel City experiences a renaissance . . .

PITTSBURGH MOVES FORWARD

Pear trees and evergreens fall as a bulldozer attacks campus turf . . .
A monster steam shovel gulps mounds of moist earth . . .
Air drills shatter the quiet of the classroom . . .
Men wield picks . . .
Concrete runs—and hardens into a foundation . . .
A steel skeleton rises and is sheathed with bricks . . .
Blueprinted plans become reality . . .
Walls, roof and spire stand firm . . .
Dreams become reality . . .
A chapel is built . . .

Not only in the erection of a new building is Shady Side Academy's improvement indicated. The chapel is simply tangible evidence of a dynamic rebirth. In vigor, morale, and leadership the school advances.

Students assume responsibilities, earn representation . . .
Alumni support school projects with increased interest . . .
Faculty committees seek new answers to old problems . . .
Activities flourish under a new program . . .
Student and faculty attitudes improve . . .
New methods and approaches bring better results . . .
The athletic program assumes a new look . . .
Education outside the classroom is emphasized . . .
Bold plans and new enthusiasm indicate vitality . . .
Pittsburgh's oldest prep school experiences a renaissance . . .

SHADY SIDE MOVES FORWARD

A rebirth at Shady Side in the present era is possible only because successive groups of leading Pittsburghers have applied vision and energy to create and maintain the Academy. Realizing this fact, the staff dedicates the 1954 ACADEMIAN to the Shady Side Academy trustees—past and present. These men and men like them have made the year 1953-54 for both Pittsburgh and Shady Side a year of renaissance. Pittsburgh—Shady Side. Reborn, they both move . . .

Campus Life

Energetic, devoted men formulate policy...

In addition to his responsibilities as executive of one of Pittsburgh's large family-owned businesses—an obligation relinquished only two years ago—Mr. E. Bruce Hill has for many years acted as Chairman of the Shady Side Board of Trustees.

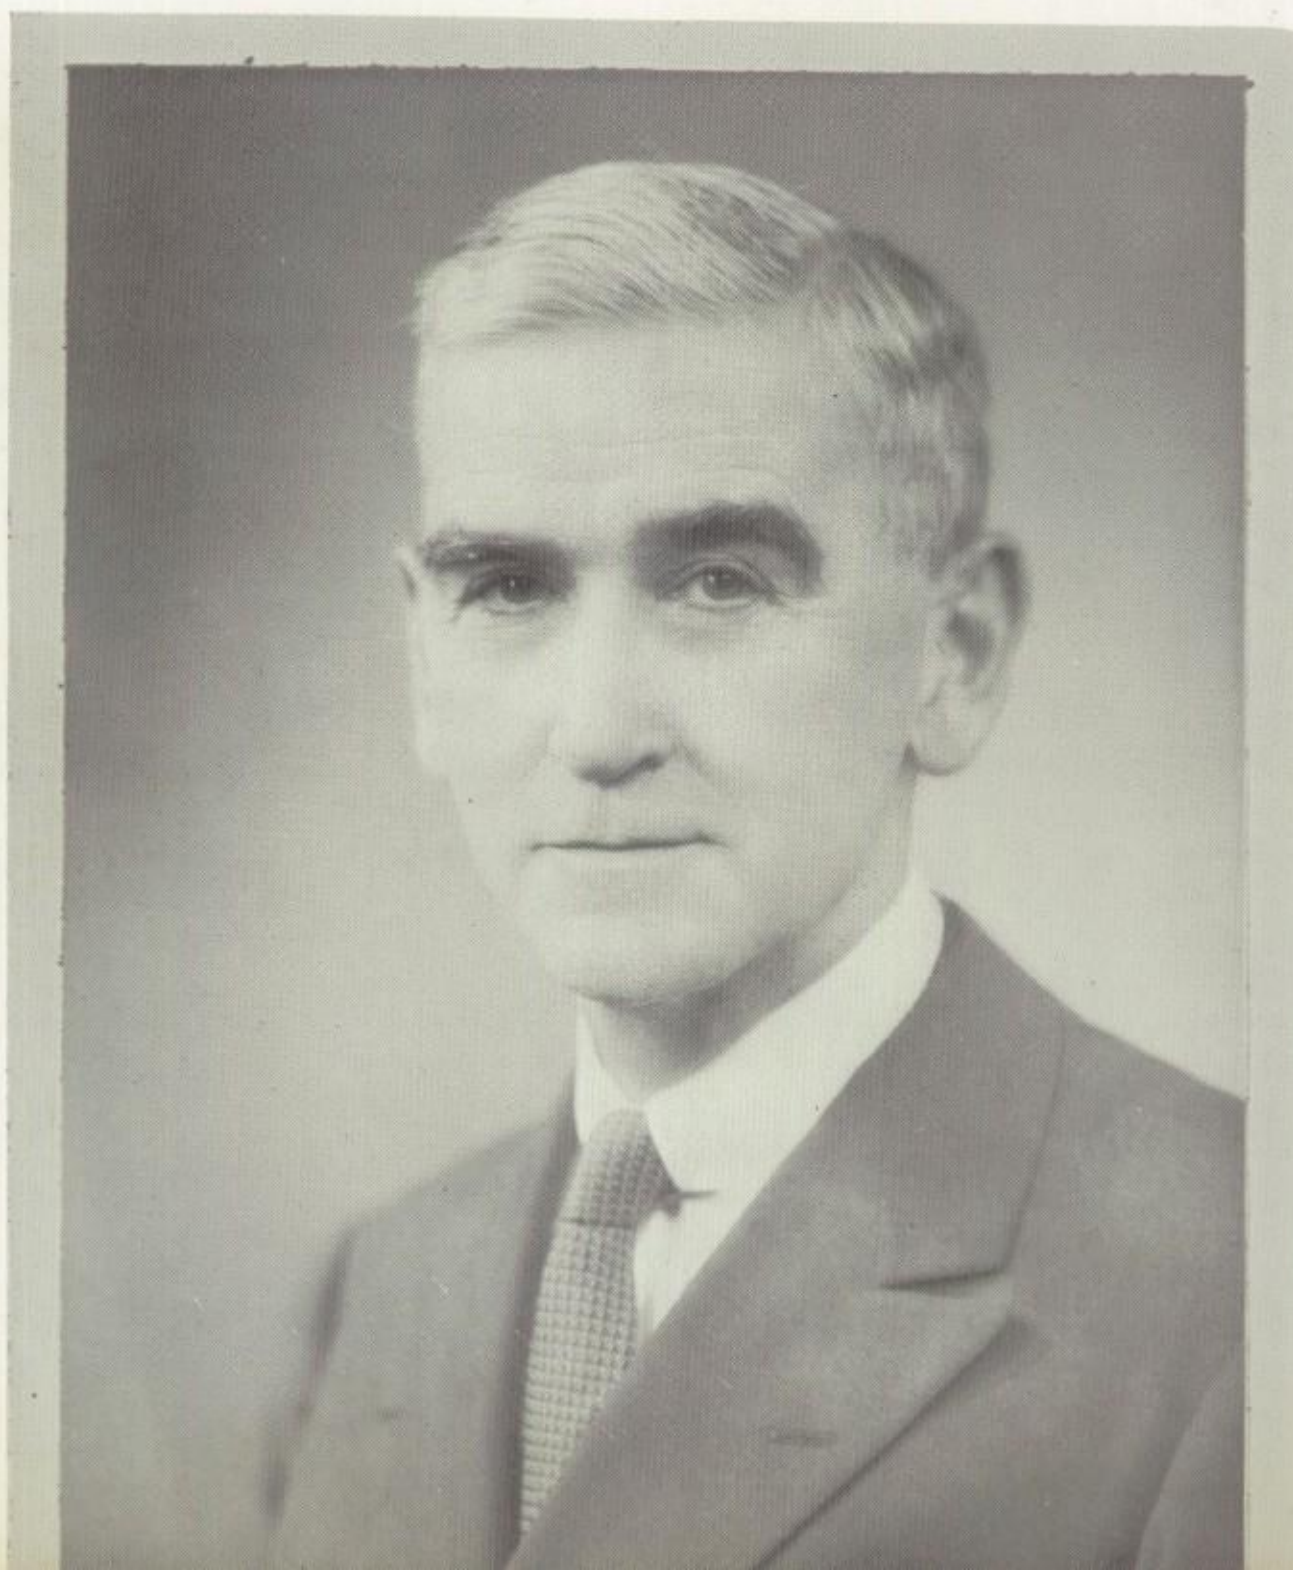

During the war years, Mr. Hill combined with his duties as bank director, chairman of an advisory board for the Office of Price Administration, and leader in the Sixth United Presbyterian Church, the difficult task of guiding the Academy through a period of reorganization.

As chief of the School's policy makers, Mr. Hill has guided Shady Side wisely, effectuating progressive ideas ranging from a teacher's retirement program to the erection of Memorial Hall. Under his administration, Shady Side's plant, facilities, and financial status have been greatly improved.

The Academy annual in 1901 pictured Mr. Hill as a member of the graduating class; the 1954 Academian pictures him again. An untiring worker in community and school projects, Mr. E. Bruce Hill exemplifies the men of vision who are building Pittsburgh and Shady Side anew.

President, Board of Trustees

GEORGE L. FOLLANSBEE
Headmaster

In the first year of his administration, Mr. George L. Follansbee, Headmaster, has left upon the Academy a sharp imprint.

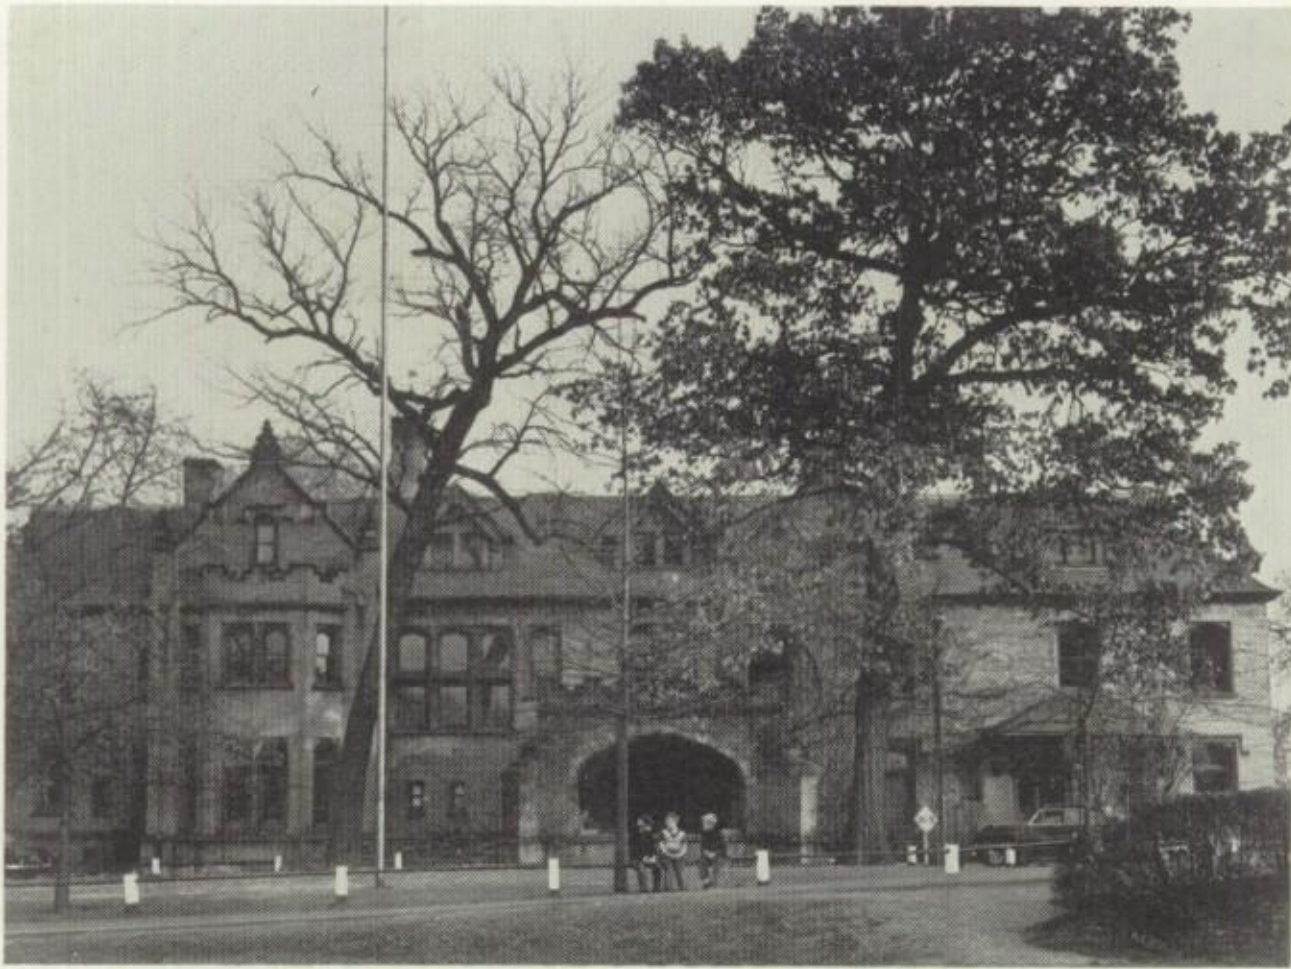

After his graduation from Shady Side twenty-four years ago, Mr. Follansbee attended Princeton University, where, before he graduated in 1934 with an A.B. degree, he had been captain of the baseball team and manager of the wrestling team as well as President of the Westminster Society and Intra-Collegiate Board. He later did graduate work at New York University and the University of Pittsburgh.

Following a brief period of work with a Pittsburgh steel corporation, Mr. Follansbee became a teacher of biology at Philips and soon head of the department.

Long interested in work with boys, the new headmaster, an athlete and avid sports fan, in recent years has served as director of youth activities at Chautauqua, where he, his wife and two children, Geof and Karen, spend the summer.

In September, Mr. Follansbee returned to his native city and alma mater because, "... the ties were still there, the pull was great, the challenge stimulating." His return to the Academy in 1953 provided the dynamic leadership necessary to make Shady Side complement the current rebirth of Pittsburgh.

Graduating Class

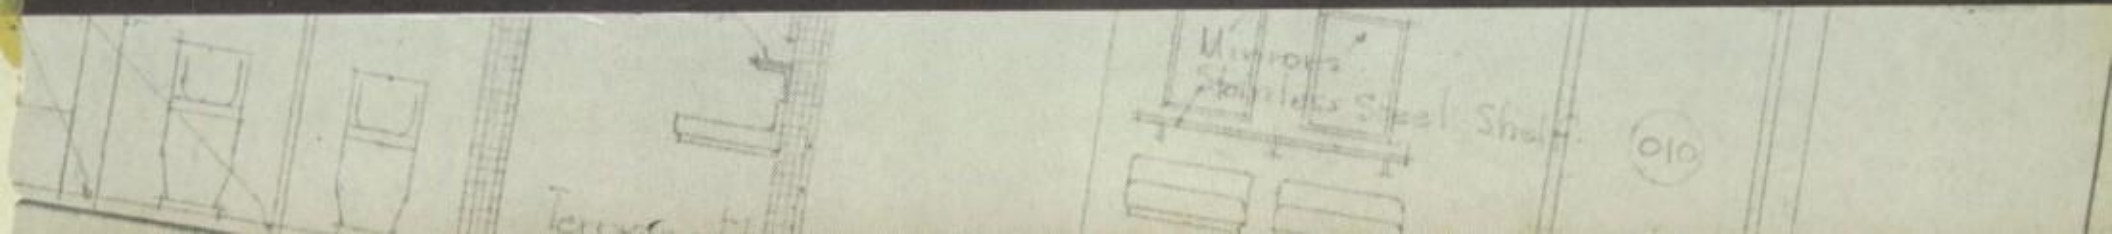

The rejuvenation of Pittsburgh—a city which until recently was stifling under soot and cinders—has required bold and imaginative men. The leaders responsible for rubbing the tarnish from Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle have wisely emphasized cultural and spiritual redevelopment as well as the physical.

Shady Side Academy—two schools in one—has for seventy-one years had an opportunity and obligation to nurture boys' qualities of leadership. Out of the ranks of Shady Side alumni must continue to come many who will carry to completion the high plans of Pittsburgh's renaissance.

Continuous attention to detail...

WALTER D. WILKISON confers with the architect about Shady Side's new Memorial Hall. As Business Manager he is called upon to handle a wide variety of problems in many different areas of activity—finance (He is Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Trustees) housing, maintenance, transportation, personnel.

Registrar and Secretary, JULIANA F. SELTZ, welcomes a break to cooperate with the Academian photographer. Summer, fall, winter, spring, her life is a welter of detail—"S" Book, entrance exams, rosters, correspondence, records. She also finds time to teach typing, and to be official hostess in the Academy office.

Always courteous and efficient, BELINDA L. BEHE, school accountant, records contributions for the new chapel. Payrolls, hospitalization, tax records, social security payments, invoices, bills, checks occupy her working day.

keeps the school running smoothly.

As assistant to Mrs. Behe, REGINA A. GOEMPEL prepares students' tuition, Tuck Shop, and Athletic Store bills.

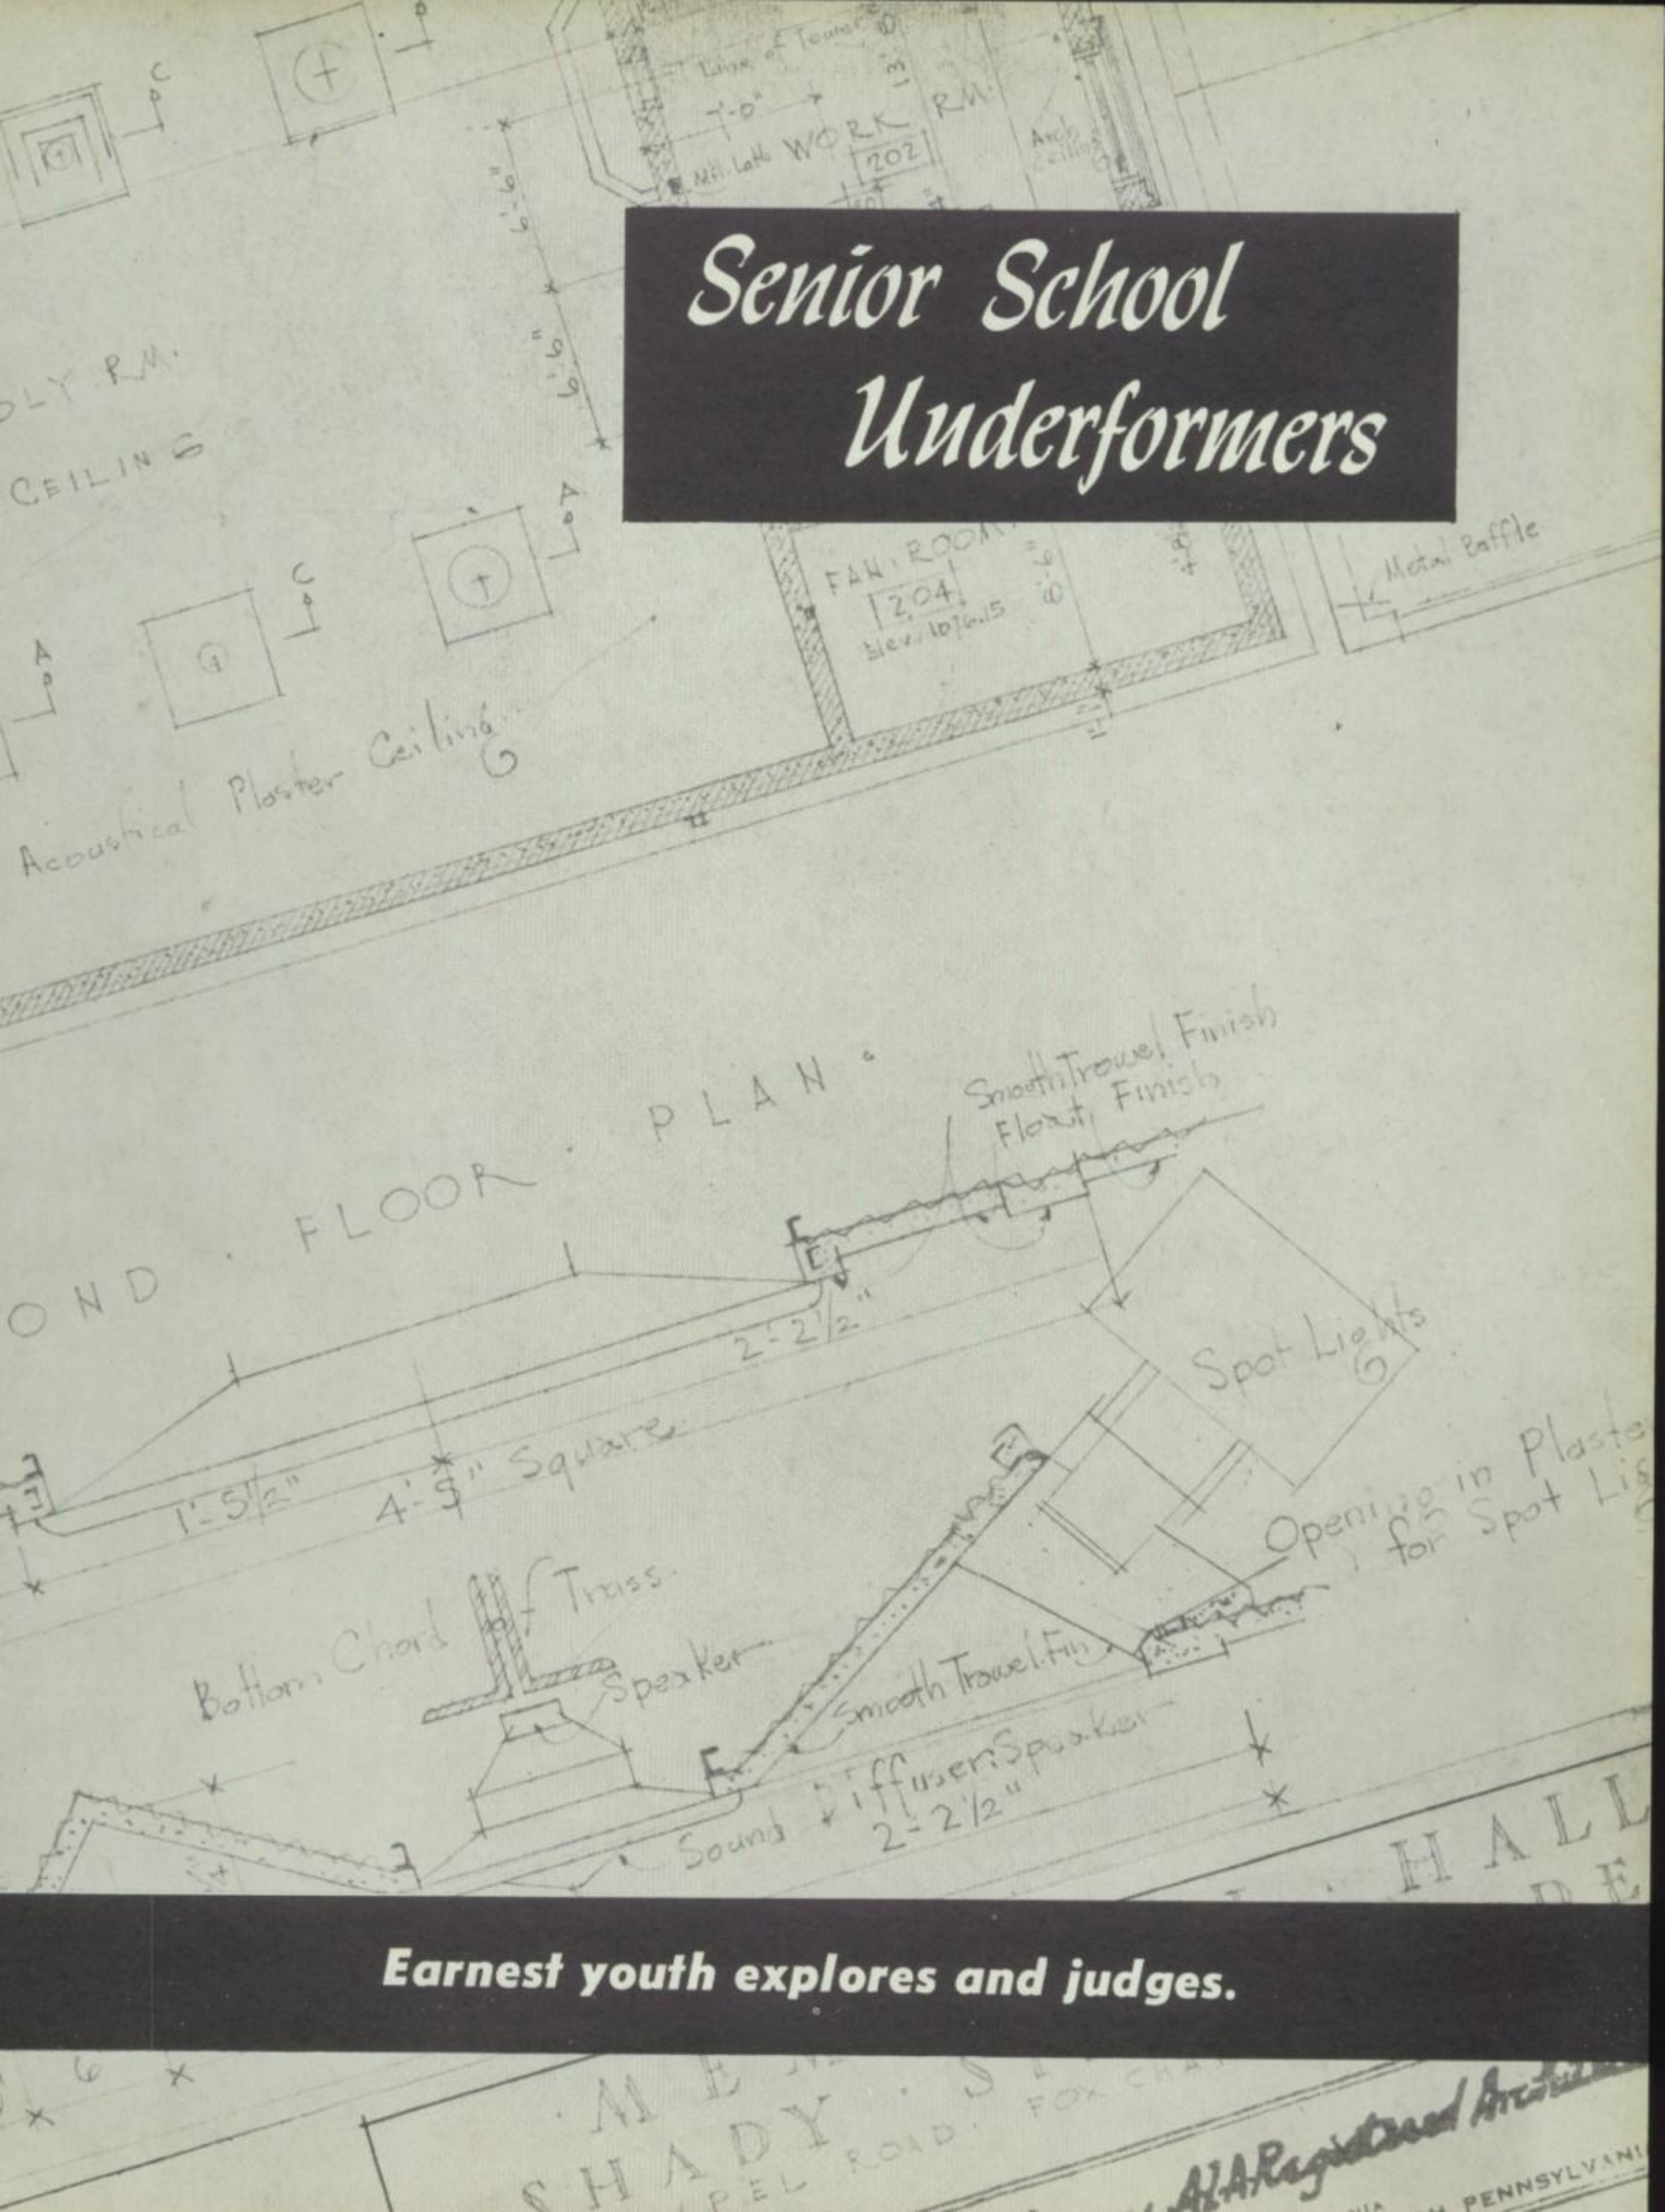

Across the desk from Mr. Innes, IRENE SHANLEY, Secretary, waits for the dictation of comments to begin. In about five minutes she will take over the switchboard for Helen.

Lodestone of the outer office, HELEN BLEIL oversees a multitude of responsibilities—mail, the switchboard, the lost and found, absentee assignments, and yet has a smile and pleasant words for all.

Arrival of a power shovel on November 10, and the felling of the friendly old pear trees promised that serious construction on Memorial Hall was about to begin . . .

A detailed hand-drawn architectural plan of a school auditorium. The plan shows the layout of the stage, seating area, and various technical elements. Key features include: a stage area with a 'Line of Town' and 'T-O' marked; a 'FAN ROOM' with 'Elev. 107.15'; a 'Metal Baffle'; 'Acoustical Plaster Ceiling'; 'Spot Lights'; 'Opening in Plaster for Spot Light'; 'Sound Diffuser Speaker'; 'Smooth Trowel Finish'; 'Float Finish'; 'Bottom Chord of Truss'; 'Speaker'; and '2-2 1/2"' dimensions. The plan is labeled 'FLOOR PLAN' and 'HALL DE'.

With unprecedented vigor, Pittsburgh cultural, civic, educational, and scientific groups have launched broad new programs to keep pace with the economic resurgence of the Steel City.

Shady Side, under new leadership, has carried forward a building program; moreover, it has critically reexamined old systems and inaugurated new concepts to vitalize the activities which complement formal instruction.

Head Coach Wood holds the dummy as Mike Lieberman demonstrates the proper method to: Kneeling: McCargo, Hero, Rea, Warrick, Hamilton, Haskall, deVou, Heinz, Schumacher, Todd, Messer, Stubbs, Finegold. Standing: Reiber, Knowles, Ahlbrandt, Flannery, Beeson, Blaxter, Crane, Wycoff, Mullins, Coach Mullen, Wetzig, J., McCahill.

The record shows two wins, one defeat—however, the Junior School football squad had a memorable season, defeating for the first time in many years the Senior School Second Formers. In a hard-fought battle on the Braddock Avenue field on October 15, Roger Flannery accounted for two touchdowns and Dick Reiber made the extra point.

The following week, the Flannery-Reiber combination again came through, this time against St. Bedes. By the end of the fourth quarter, Flannery had scored two touchdowns, and Reiber two extra points.

On October 22, in Fox Chapel, the Junior School eleven played a return match with the Senior School Second Formers. This time, fired with revenge, the Second Formers triumphed, 7-0.

The Junior School soccer team, a spirited and courageous group, met superior teams and unlucky breaks without letting despair mar its play. Bruce Hill's field leadership pepped up every player, and Sam Leezer's powerful kicking always served to encourage the team and its rooters.

Although the team did not win any game and tied but one—that with the Valley School of Ligonier—the players do not consider that lone tie game the high point of the season. A game with the Senior School provided the big thrill for the boys—a goal scored against their older and more experienced schoolmates.

The players, although not satisfied with their record, can be proud of the respect they earned from their opponents for fair, hard play.

On Wednesday, October 28, the Junior School played a soccer game at home with Valley School. Like the last, this game ended in a tie, this time by the score of 0-0. In the last quarter Shady Side pressed hard on the spot goal, but the goalie was on the spot for several saves. Throughout the game Brian Mullins, Shady Side's goal tender, did an outstanding job. It was a closely played contest all the way, with the ball changing hands more often than usual.

VARSITY

The 1953 Shady Side soccer team finished a highly creditable season by equaling the Academy scoring record of 31 goals.

On September 24, the team was defeated by a powerful W.P.S.D. squad, despite last-quarter scores by Benford and Runnette. On September 29, Captain Strem punched through two fourth-quarter goals, which proved to be the downfall of Connelly Vocational. Washington Vocational bowed to a powerful home team on October 1. Solomon scored two goals, while Smelzer, Hedberg, and Strem tallied one apiece. In the first league contest on October 10, Shady Side downed the W.R.A. team in a thriller at Hudson, Ohio. Captain Strem once again accounted for two goals, and Benford the other. On October 13, the team played host to Connelly Vocational. Hedberg provided the team with two goals, both in the first half. A trip to Washington Vocational three days later resulted in another Indian victory when Strem and Runnette scored in a close 2-1 decision. W.P.S.D. again left S.S.A. defeated on October 19 in spite of scores by Adams and Strem. However, a boisterous and triumphant team returned from Detroit, following a 6-0 victory at Cranbrook on October 24. Smelzer and Hedberg had each tallied twice while Runnette and Solomon had accounted for one apiece. On Homecoming Day, October 31, the powerful University line tallied five first-half goals, far outweighing the goals by Solomon and Sutherland in the last period. A decisive victory at Kiski followed on November 2, when Strem, Hedberg, and Runnette scored. In the last game of the season, Shady Side and Nichols played to a 2-2 tie; Solomon and Runnette shared the scoring honors.

The season ended with the Indians in the runner-up slot in the Inter-state Preparatory School League, and with an over-all 7-3-3 record.

Under the tutelage of Mr. F. Walter Jones, Mr. Charles J. Yost, and Mr. Robert D. Abercrombie, the Shady Side Academy Indians opened the 1953 season on October 3, by taking a 38-0 shellacking from Oakmont High.

Alex Cooper was the star for S.S.A. on October 10 at Western Reserve Academy. His 93-yard off-tackle run brought Shady Side's only score, as the Indians lost their second game of the season.

Shady Side Indians fight!

McKelvy Field was the site of the third defeat of the gridders, by Elders Ridge High, on Friday, October 16. This time, Ed Hendel went over from the 22 with a pass from John Flannery for the lone score.

At Detroit, Shady Side spoiled Cranbrook's Homecoming with a 13-7 loss given to the Cranes by John Flannery's 75 yard end run and Cooper's 29-yard off-tackle jaunt.

The Indians lost a close game to University School at Shady Side's home-coming. Alex Cooper again was the hero with the only two touchdowns by S.S.A.

Eleven senior members played their last game on November 7, with Alex Cooper and Ed Hendel both scoring on passes from Graham. Although a 2-4 record does not seem very impressive, with a few breaks in any of the games Shady Side could have gained the victory.

boys master themselves.

Although unable to master their local opponents, the Shady Side matmen posted a 2-1 record to tie for first place in the Interstate Prep League.

Throughout a season plagued with injuries, the outstanding performances of Bill Treese, Pete Crane, and Jerry Fincke—who remained unbeaten—were encouraging. On the whole, individual performances by team members were good, but at no time could enough of them be garnered to gain a win in any of the seven matches with local opponents.

The league victories came against Cranbrook on February 6, and Western Reserve on February 20; the sole league defeat was handed the grapplers by the co-champions, University School, on March 6.

Captain Bill Treese' team was coached by Mr. Charles J. Yost and Pete Bolanis, a star matman of the Class of '47. The lettermen, a number of whom will be on hand for next year's season, on March 18 chose Dick Johnson to captain the '55 squad. Ed Hendel will for the second time be manager.

young athletes seek victory.

Experience, rather than glory, was gained from the 1953-54 basketball season. The lack of any returning lettermen put the weight of carrying the team on the shoulders of "green" players, mainly juniors. Led by Fifth Formers Graham and Runnette, the Indians showed a record of five wins and fifteen losses at the close of the season. Individual honors went to Runnette as he bagged 197 points for the season. Experience, sorely lacked this year, should pose no problem next year when six lettermen will return.

Shady Side opened on the home floor December 15, with an encounter against Oakmont High, and lost 45-28. Five games later, on January 6, the victory-starved Jonesmen picked up their first win, downing Carrick High, 48-46. Two more wins rapidly followed as both Allegheny Vocational and W.P.S.D. bowed. Strong Butler and Kiski teams next victimized the Indians. The remaining city victory was gained at Hampton's expense on January 29.

League-wise, S.S.A. fell heir to third place, with University leading the circuit. Cranbrook, the first Prep League opponent, came out on top in a 48-44 tilt at Pittsburgh. Nichols, hosting Shady Side at Buffalo, won 46-40. A week later Western Reserve was shaved by S.S.A. 53-51, tallying the Pittsburgh squad's sole league win. The March 6 game at Cleveland closed out the season.

In spring, S.S.A. sprinters . . .

Upon the retirement of Capt. William A. Palmer, Mr. F. Walter Jones took over as Athletic Director and head coach of the track team. Coach Jones's main problem, a lack of returning lettermen, meant much work would be needed to rebuild nearly every part of the team.

In 1953, the season ended with a record of three wins, four losses, and one tie. Two S.S.A. records fell, one broken again later in the spring. On May 8, in the 440 yard dash, Co-captain Karl Van Horn '53 clipped one second off the record of 52.8 seconds, and on May 12, Richard Repp '53 lowered the time for the 180 low hurdles to 21.7 seconds.

In the Inter-State Preparatory School League meet at Hudson, Ohio, on May 30, Shady Side finished second with 44 points, led only by the host Western Reserve team. In this meet, Repp improved his own mark for the low hurdles by six-tenths of a second.

Coach Jones to Captain Flannery: "All we need now is about twenty more men out for track."

GOLF

A clinic session on March 24 marked the beginning of the 1954 golf season. Coached by Mr. Robert D. Abercrombie and captained by Jack Shenkan, the team was prepared, as the Academian went to press, to protect the six-win-three-loss record of the 1953 season—a summary of which follows.

In the season opener against Ambridge, on April 17, the Indians, by taking points in practically every match, came out victorious, 10-5. Shenkan with an 86 was medalist.

At the Highland Country Club on April 24 West View defeated SSA, 11-4. Foster with an 82 was the only Academy winner. By defeating Kiski, 11-4, at Oakmont on April 27, SSA got back on a winning streak which lasted through May 1, when SSA took Central Catholic 13½-1½, and May 4, when Ambridge went down to total defeat, 15-0. West View however, in a return match at the Field Club, on May 11 edged the Indians out, 8½-6½.

The canceling of matches with Linsly on May 15 and Penn High on May 18 gave the golfers time to regain their winning form, so that they dumped Wilksburg on May 19, at the Field Club, with a score of 11½-3½.

Playing Kiski on May 25 at Fox Chapel, the linksmen sunk their opponents, 12-3, thus achieving their second victory over Kiski and their sixth win of the season. The bid to make the wins number seven failed on May 29, when the Faculty Team, composed of Messrs. Abercrombie and Wilkison, defeated the varsity, 10½-7½.

Coach Gregory demonstrates proper grip on the racquet to Dennis, T. Schwartz, Rodgers, Smelzer, Jim Hedberg (Captain), Bill Runnette, C. Sutherland, and Herrington (Manager).

From the start of the season, the 1954 tennis team, coached by Mr. Richard Gregory and captained by Jim Hedberg, was faced with a difficult problem—upholding the undefeated, 13-win, 6 shut-out record of the '53 squad which was led by Mr. John Colbaugh and Richard Davis. Included in the '54 season's fourteen game card are traditional rivals such as Mount Lebanon, Edgewood, and Wilkinsburg, along with several local schools and league rivals.

Following is a brief resume of the 1953 matches.

On April 15, the season got under way, as the netmen got off to a good start, defeating Arnold High School in a home game, 4-1.

The following Wednesday, April 22, by beating Edgewood High School 4-0, the Indians gained their first shut-out.

Arnold again fell victim to the powerful S.S.A. squad in a return match on April 23, 4-1. On April 25, against Kiski, S.S.A. picked up its second shut-out, 6-0. The next game also was a shut-out, this time at the expense of Edgewood High School, on April 28.

The first Inter-State Preparatory School League encounter was with Western Reserve on May 2, at Shady Side. After the match the S.S.A. players left the courts with a 4-1 victory to their credit.

On May 5, Mount Lebanon was the next to topple, this time by a score of 8-1. With over half of the matches played, the prospect of an undefeated season became a very distinct possibility.

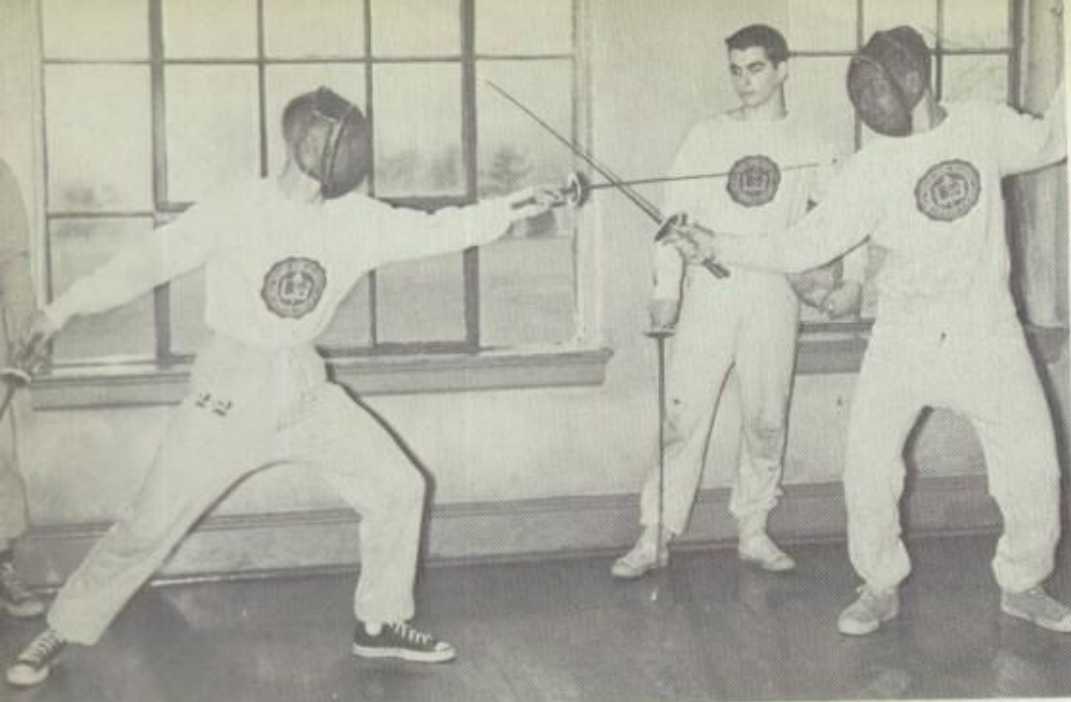

At Nichols on May 9, the law of averages nearly caught up; however, the Indians, winning the last three matches, triumphed 3-2.

To show there was no slow-down, in a return match with Mount Lebanon on May 12, the S.S.A. netmen emerged victorious. Next, the Indians tripped up Wilkinsburg 6-0 on May 19.

The third league match, however, with University proved more difficult than all previous encounters, but Shady Side managed to squeeze through with a 3-2 victory.

May 25 found S.S.A. fighting Kiski and winning 6-0.

The last match with Cranbrook on May 30 was not decided until the last doubles when Dennis and Smelzer defeated their opponents, giving the victory to S.S.A., 3-2 and completing for the 1953 team an undefeated season.

CUM LAUDE

To the leader...

The national Cum Laude Society, like Phi Beta Kappa, honors those students in the top fifth of the graduating class who have maintained an average of eighty or above for the last two years. Upon becoming a member, each boy is presented with a certificate and a gold key, emblematic of his significant achievement. Boys pictured here received their keys when they were elected to membership in the Shady Side chapter after mid-years. Others were chosen at commencement, and had their names added to the list of seniors who have been so honored since 1929.

One of two campus honorary groups, Sargon Society, founded in 1922, maintained this year its traditionally high standards for membership: scholarship, superior contributions to extra-curricular activities, and athletic ability.

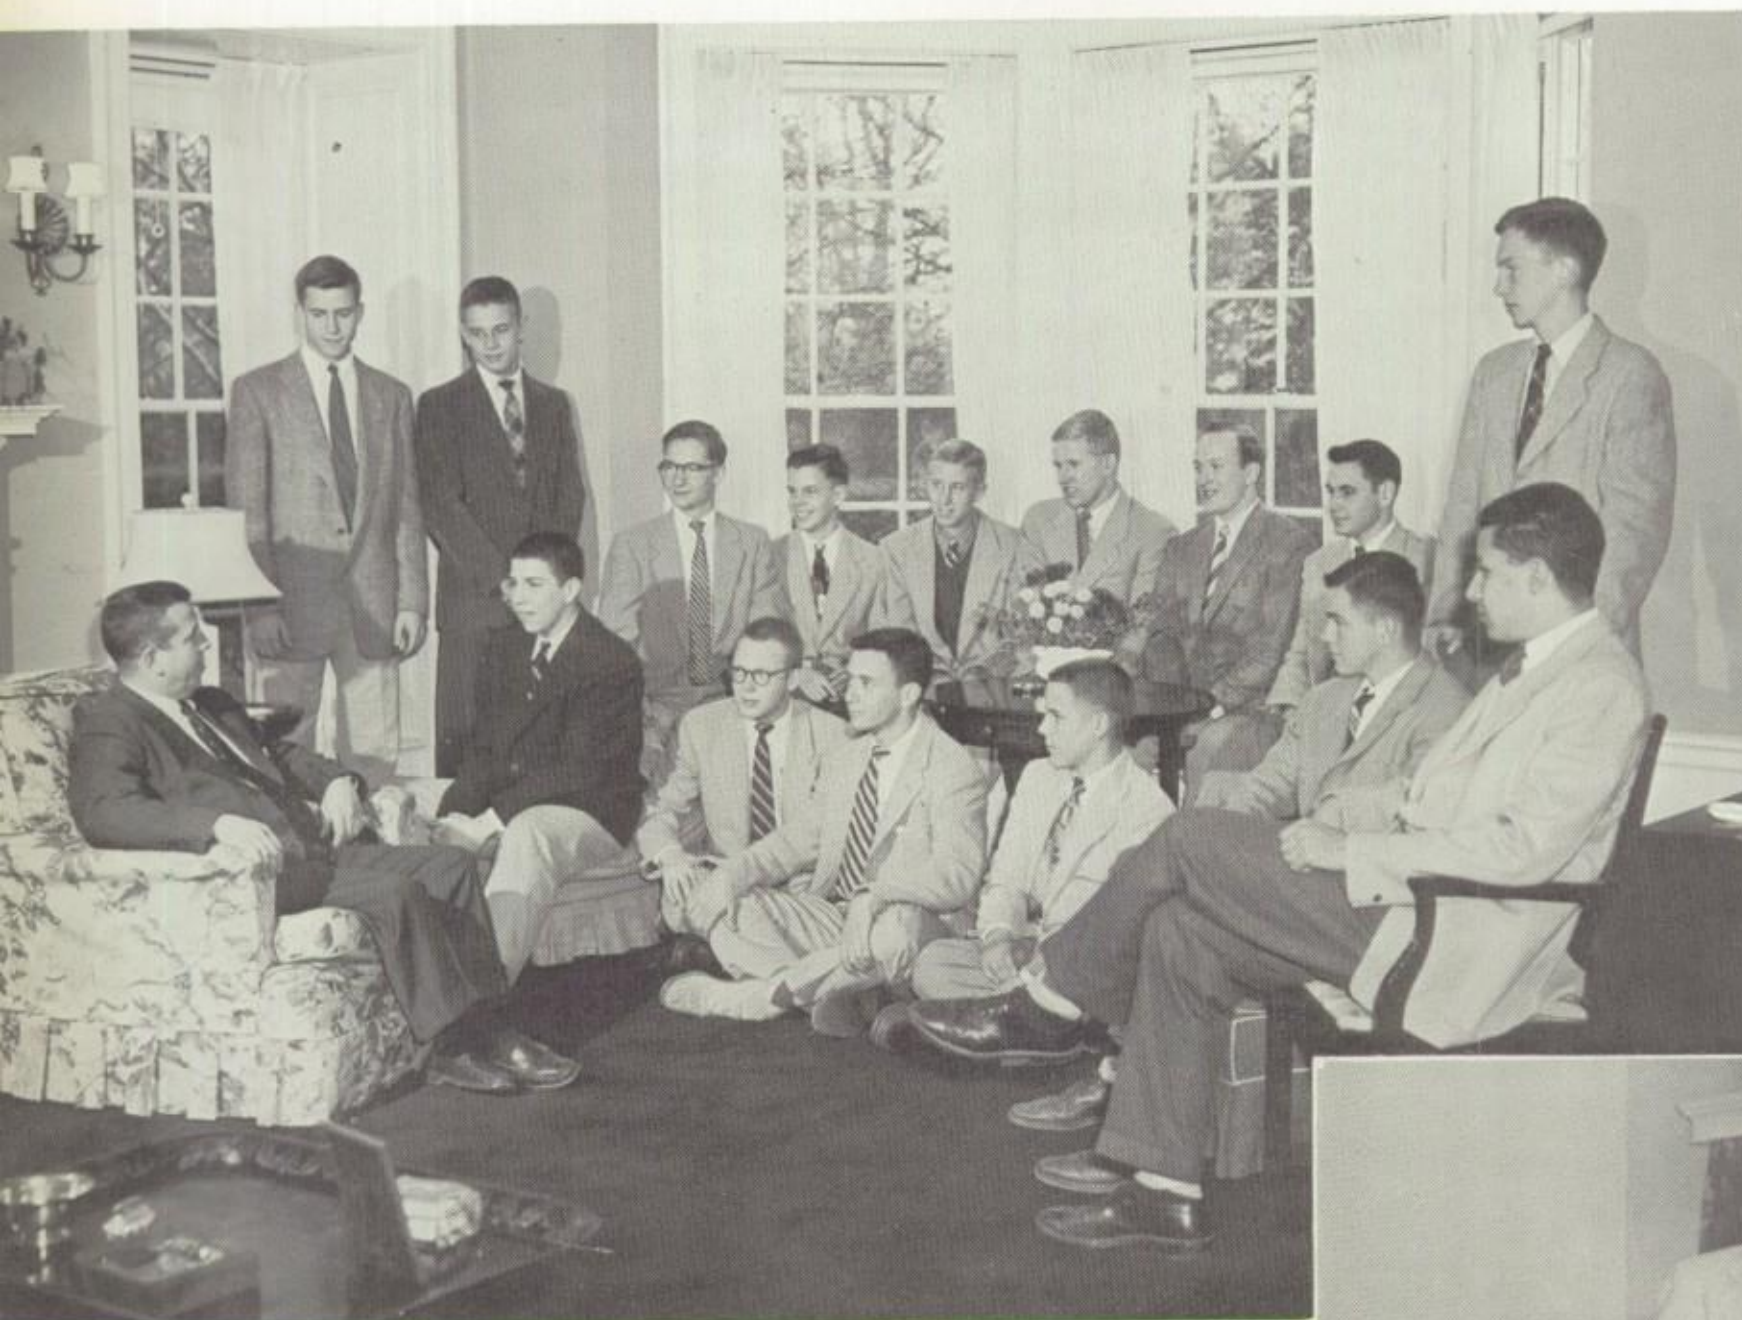

The Society held tap days in December, March, and May—when students of the upper two forms who had met requirements were made members in impressive tapping ceremonies in front of Rowe Hall.

Mr. George L. Follansbee, Mr. Parker Berg, and Mr. F. Walter Jones serve as faculty member-advisers.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, under the guidance of Headmaster George L. Follansbee, took a more active role this year in its attempt to establish better student-faculty relations, to assume leadership in school activities, and to set high standards for the rest of the student body.

Cooperating with the faculty, the Council gained limited authority in matters of student discipline and also effected improvements in dormitory and bus rules.

Monthly reports to the student body were an innovation of the year.

Using for its subject matter the National Forensic League topic, "Resolved: That the president of the United States should be elected by the direct vote of the people", the Debate Team, coached by Mr. Arlin M. Cook, participated in various tournaments throughout the Pittsburgh district.

On January 27, for example, the group debated at the University of Pittsburgh, and on February 26, at Swissvale High School.

In addition, the team had several matches with Avonworth and Greensburg High Schools.

On Wednesday evenings when the Forum does not meet, members of St. Andrew's Society gather in McCune Library for an informal discussion of religious or moral questions. Upper-formers who the members believe will offer valuable contributions to the discussions are voted into the society in early fall.

In addition to regular meetings under the leadership of Mr. George L. Follansbee and Mr. F. Walter Jones, the group held several meetings with guest speakers. On October 28, for example, "The Impact of Science on Religion" was discussed by the Reverend Al Payne. On December 2, Dean Moore spoke on "Social Problems of Teenagers". When no outside speaker is present, members continue discussions introduced by the guests.

The Forum, an organization which discusses topics of local, national, and international importance, meets on alternate Wednesday evenings in McCune Library. Each member of the student body is encouraged to join the group, provided he will attend regularly and participate in the exchange of ideas.

Some of the topics discussed this year were, "Should Negroes be Admitted to Shady Side?,"

"Teenage Vandalism in Pittsburgh," "Fraternity Life in Colleges," and "Jazz, Its History and Background."

Guest speakers—James Slusser, Superintendent of Pittsburgh Police, Branch Rickey, representative of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Dr. George Riegl, research engineer—did much to provoke thought and discussion. The Forum is under the supervision of Mr. Arlin M. Cook.

This year, the Egerian broadened into a magazine of the arts rather than remaining one solely literary in character. Consequently, the board asked students with a creative flair to submit their best poems, essays, short stories, photographs, and art work for publication.

Mr. Willard E. Mead, faculty adviser to the staff, correlated with the usual articles of student writers, work done by the Photo and Art Clubs.

ACADEMIAN

Planning for the book you are now reading began over a year ago. From April until September 1953, editors, business managers, and advisers were holding conferences, establishing budgets, and making printing and photography arrangements.

From the first day of school until the final deadline on March 26, editorial, photographic, and business staffs were working—sometimes at a leisurely pace, often under pressure—to obtain ads and to prepare pictures, copy, and layouts.

You have before you in word and picture—1953-1954 at Shady Side—the record of a year of renaissance and growth!

Holm and Abbott's "Three Men on a Horse," presented at the Junior School on March 26, was the Gargoyle Society's presentation for 1954.

Directed by Mr. Willard E. Mead and Mr. Douglas R. Lewis, Faculty Advisers, Dan Kinley and Jack Shenkan played leading roles. Members of the supporting cast were Stinson, Handley, and Barnebey, '55; Lord, Wedner, and Starz, '56; Baker, Warden, and Weiner, '57. Mike Horner was general stage manager; Mr. C. P. Vorce acted as faculty adviser in business problems.

With Mr. John S. Veteran members spent several sessions learning new techniques and experimenting with unusual effects.

Photographing students for the permanent record file in the administration offices was an important service contributed by club members to the school. As in recent years, the club again sponsored an exhibition of black-and-white prints and a color salon.

P.A. CREW

The Public Address Crew, under the direction of Mr. R. V. Howard, was this year, as in the past, an extremely busy group. Besides supplying music at school dances and the Alumni Tea, this organization broadcasted at the Sargon Tap Days, home football and track contests, and the commencement exercises.

This year the purchase of stands on which the club's four loud speakers can be mounted and the reconditioning of their several walkie-talkies permitted more complete coverage of events than ever before. This equipment, which is so mobile that it can be used almost anywhere on the campus, is paid for and kept up by the Musical Clubs.

and publicize the school!

Conceived by a small group of students in the spring of 1953, the Public Relations Group became an active reality shortly after school opened in the fall.

Dispatching news releases and acting as hosts and guides to campus visitors—especially on occasions like Homecoming and Commencement—were the important activities of the group.

Publicity for the Academy was gained by the group by feeding to the city dailies articles relevant to the opening of the school year and the construction of Memorial Hall. On occasion the group succeeded also in interesting the Pittsburgh papers in doing feature stories on campus personalities with interesting backgrounds or achievements.

The dramatic rejuvenation of Pittsburgh's aspect has inspired advances in many unexpected directions. These activities in areas such as medical research will eventually bring better life patterns for not only Pittsburghers but also the whole world.

At Shady Side the thrill of seeing Memorial Hall actually under construction has set trustees, administrative officers, faculty, and students off on new paths. The school plant has been brightened and freshened; new areas of activity have been explored and developed. A healthy new spirit has taken hold at the Academy.

Dormitories

Living together—that's the real thing!

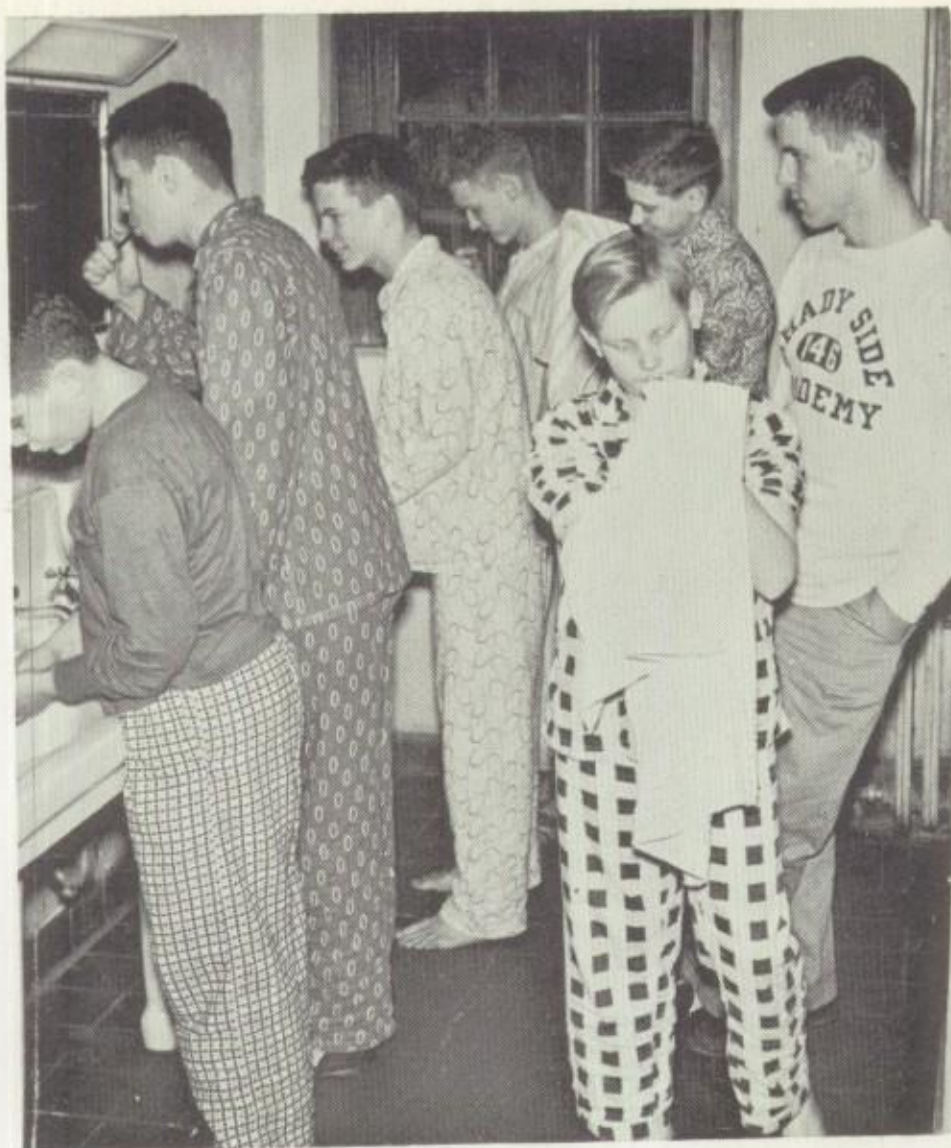

The architectural drawing shows a cross-section of a dormitory building. It features a gabled roof with rafters and a central truss. The interior is divided into several levels and rooms. At the top, there are dormer windows and a small room labeled '101B19'. Below this, a large room is labeled '101B15' and contains a 'Platform 106' and a 'Platform 107'. A 'Pipe Rail' and 'Ice Board' are shown in the center. The bottom level includes 'STAIR D' (023) and 'STAIR C' (024). The drawing is annotated with various construction details such as 'b13 Beams, Hangers for curtains', 'Susp. Plaster Ceiling', 'Wood Floor Wood Sleepers', and 'Marble Paving'. The overall style is a technical architectural sketch.

Dormitories

BAYARD HOUSE

Prefect Crane tries to hustle Bayard boys bedward. North, Baker, Kurtz, Shelar, Parshall and Armentrout are not to be rushed.

A boarder lives, studies, relaxes . . .

"It's bedtime, sons—let's hit the hay." Housemaster Howard tells Wilson, Benzinger, and Lewis.

Bayard House—where Second and Third Formers are introduced to dormitory life.

Prefect Levin pockets one as Ruffner, Barry Levin, Phil Wiegard, Steve Schwartz, Fitch, and Kent Collins observe the method.

in his home away from home . . .

Blare of sax . . . sassy whine of trumpet . . . vibration of piano strings . . . squeak of violin . . . roomful of memorabilia—these leave no doubt. Bayard is the headquarters for the Musical Clubs.

Perfect prefects . . . devilish pranks . . . 9:45 lights . . . lav limitations . . . nocturnal track practice—these leave no doubt that this is Bayard, home of the Second and Third Formers.

Charles Lynch, Faller, Lawler, Foster, Schroeder, Minter, Ambrose, and Hall return from night study in Rowe.

Croft Hall—newest, largest dorm on campus.

Learns to adjust socially . . .

CROFT HALL

Seated: Hicks (Vice-President), Succop (President), Coyle (Secretary-Treasurer), Benford, Ray Schwartz. Standing: Mr. Richard Gregory (Assistant Housemaster), Mr. Charles Yost (Assistant Housemaster), Mr. Walter Jones (Assistant Housemaster), Mr. Robert Abercrombie (Housemaster).

Seated: Engroff, Brandt, Kepler, Muller, Gray, Hallow, Knetsche, Seip. Standing: Hicks, L. Wells, Knepper, Larson, Cervino.

During a student-faculty bull session, Mr. Abercrombie (Housemaster) jokes with Engroff, Knepper, Larry Hicks, Wells, Carson, and Muller.

Reinhardt lines up a shot as Jacobs, Moore, McClure, Bill Collins, Lebowitz, and Graham relax in the game room.

to respect the rights of others.

Dorm with a closed door policy (front, that is) . . . but largest rooms . . . only dorm where boarders live on the third floor . . . lavish commons room decor . . . plagued by Second Formers releasing inhibitions in art and shop . . . Fifth Formers creating prom decorations . . . to say nothing of yearbook staffers . . . jammed with old golf clubs, fly-tying paraphernalia, tennis raquets, Pitt alumni, cigar smoke . . . run by Alexander Hamilton's last dueling opponent . . . assisted by Messers Jones, Yost, and Gregory.

Seated: Richards, Kuhn, Collins, Margolis, Walker, Graham, Lebowitz, McClure. Standing: Barnebey, Handley, Reinhardt, Forbes, Moore, Beares, Weiler, Thoma, Jacobs.

In Mr. Thorpe's study, the topic shifts from books to bull. Steele, Eisinger, Hendel, and Herrington seem quite pleased about the whole thing.

Through dormitory life . . .

MOREWOOD HOUSE

Pennoyer, Steele, Solomon (Secretary-Treasurer), Eisinger (Vice-President), Berkman (President), Stone, Hendel, Herrington, Mr. Parker Berg (Housemaster).

Mr. Berg chats with Solomon, Pennoyer, Stone, and Berkman.

Miller, Clark, and Cheney put their heads together and struggle for an answer.

Seated: Wiegand, F., Mr. Thorpe (Assistant Housemaster), Clark, Stilley, Fleming, Mr. Knuttgen (Assistant-Housemaster). Standing: Miller, Cheney, Heppenstall, Lubow.

On a cold January morning, it's a real advantage for Ellsworth boys to live so close to Rowe Hall.

Develops cherished friendships . . .

On Floor: Maxwell, Flanagan. Seated: Rost, Oseroff, Ferguson, Butts, Daum, Mr. Firth (Housemaster). Standing: Thorsteinson, Markus, Mr. Vorce (Assistant Housemaster), Mr. Lewis (Assistant Housemaster).

ELLSWORTH HOUSE

builds life-long memories.

Night study's over and Daum, Iams, Bill Sutherland, Burchfield (Secretary-Treasurer), and Markus hit the bottle.

Mr. Lewis (Assistant Housemaster) explains about the birds (Audubon, that is) to Wirts, Bill Kirkpatrick (President), Half, and Dinkey.

Setting for the annual homecoming dance . . . fabulous Thursday night feeds . . . popular pool and ping-pong tournaments run by S. (eniors) E. (llsworth) H. (ouse) rules . . . in the attic: News and Academian business offices and C.P.V. . . . house with largest consumption of A.C. . . . most erratic plumbing . . . residence of the only English master who teaches Latin, the only Chemistry master who teaches English . . . domain of the renowned canine literary figures, Dr. Samuel Johnson and Tasso.

Seated: Burchfield (Secretary-Treasurer), Kirkpatrick (President), Oseroff (Vice-President), Johnson R., Connell, Lynch, D., Wirts.

Standing: Iams, Rodgers, Muse, Dinkey, Sutherland, W., Half.

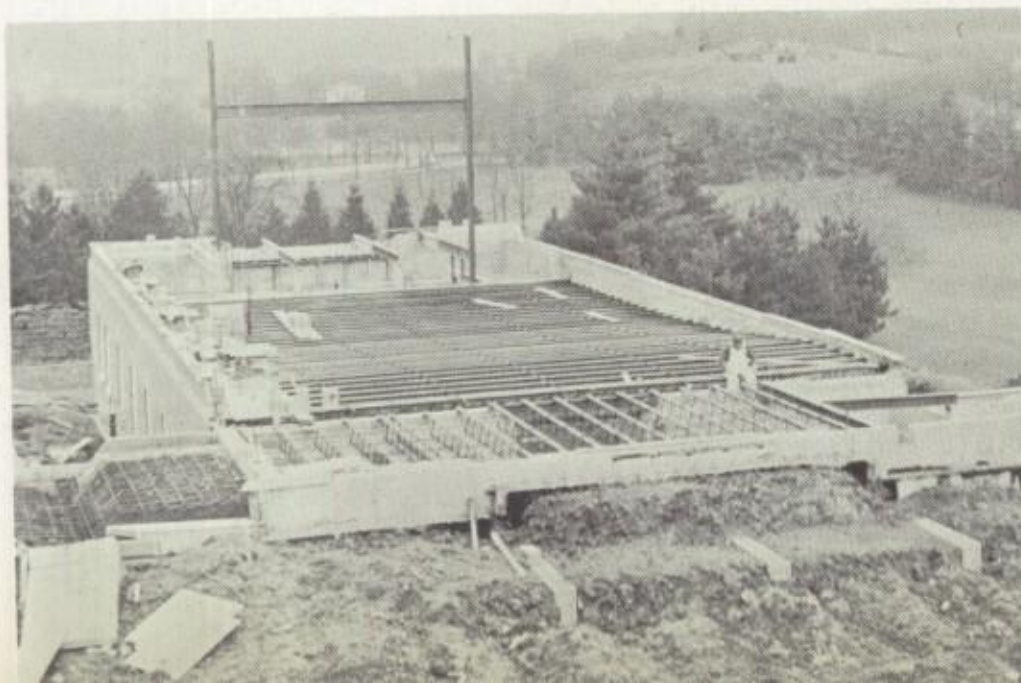

In early March the walls of the passageway neared completion. Projected for the near future is the new science wing, planned for the space between the evergreen and the passageway . . .

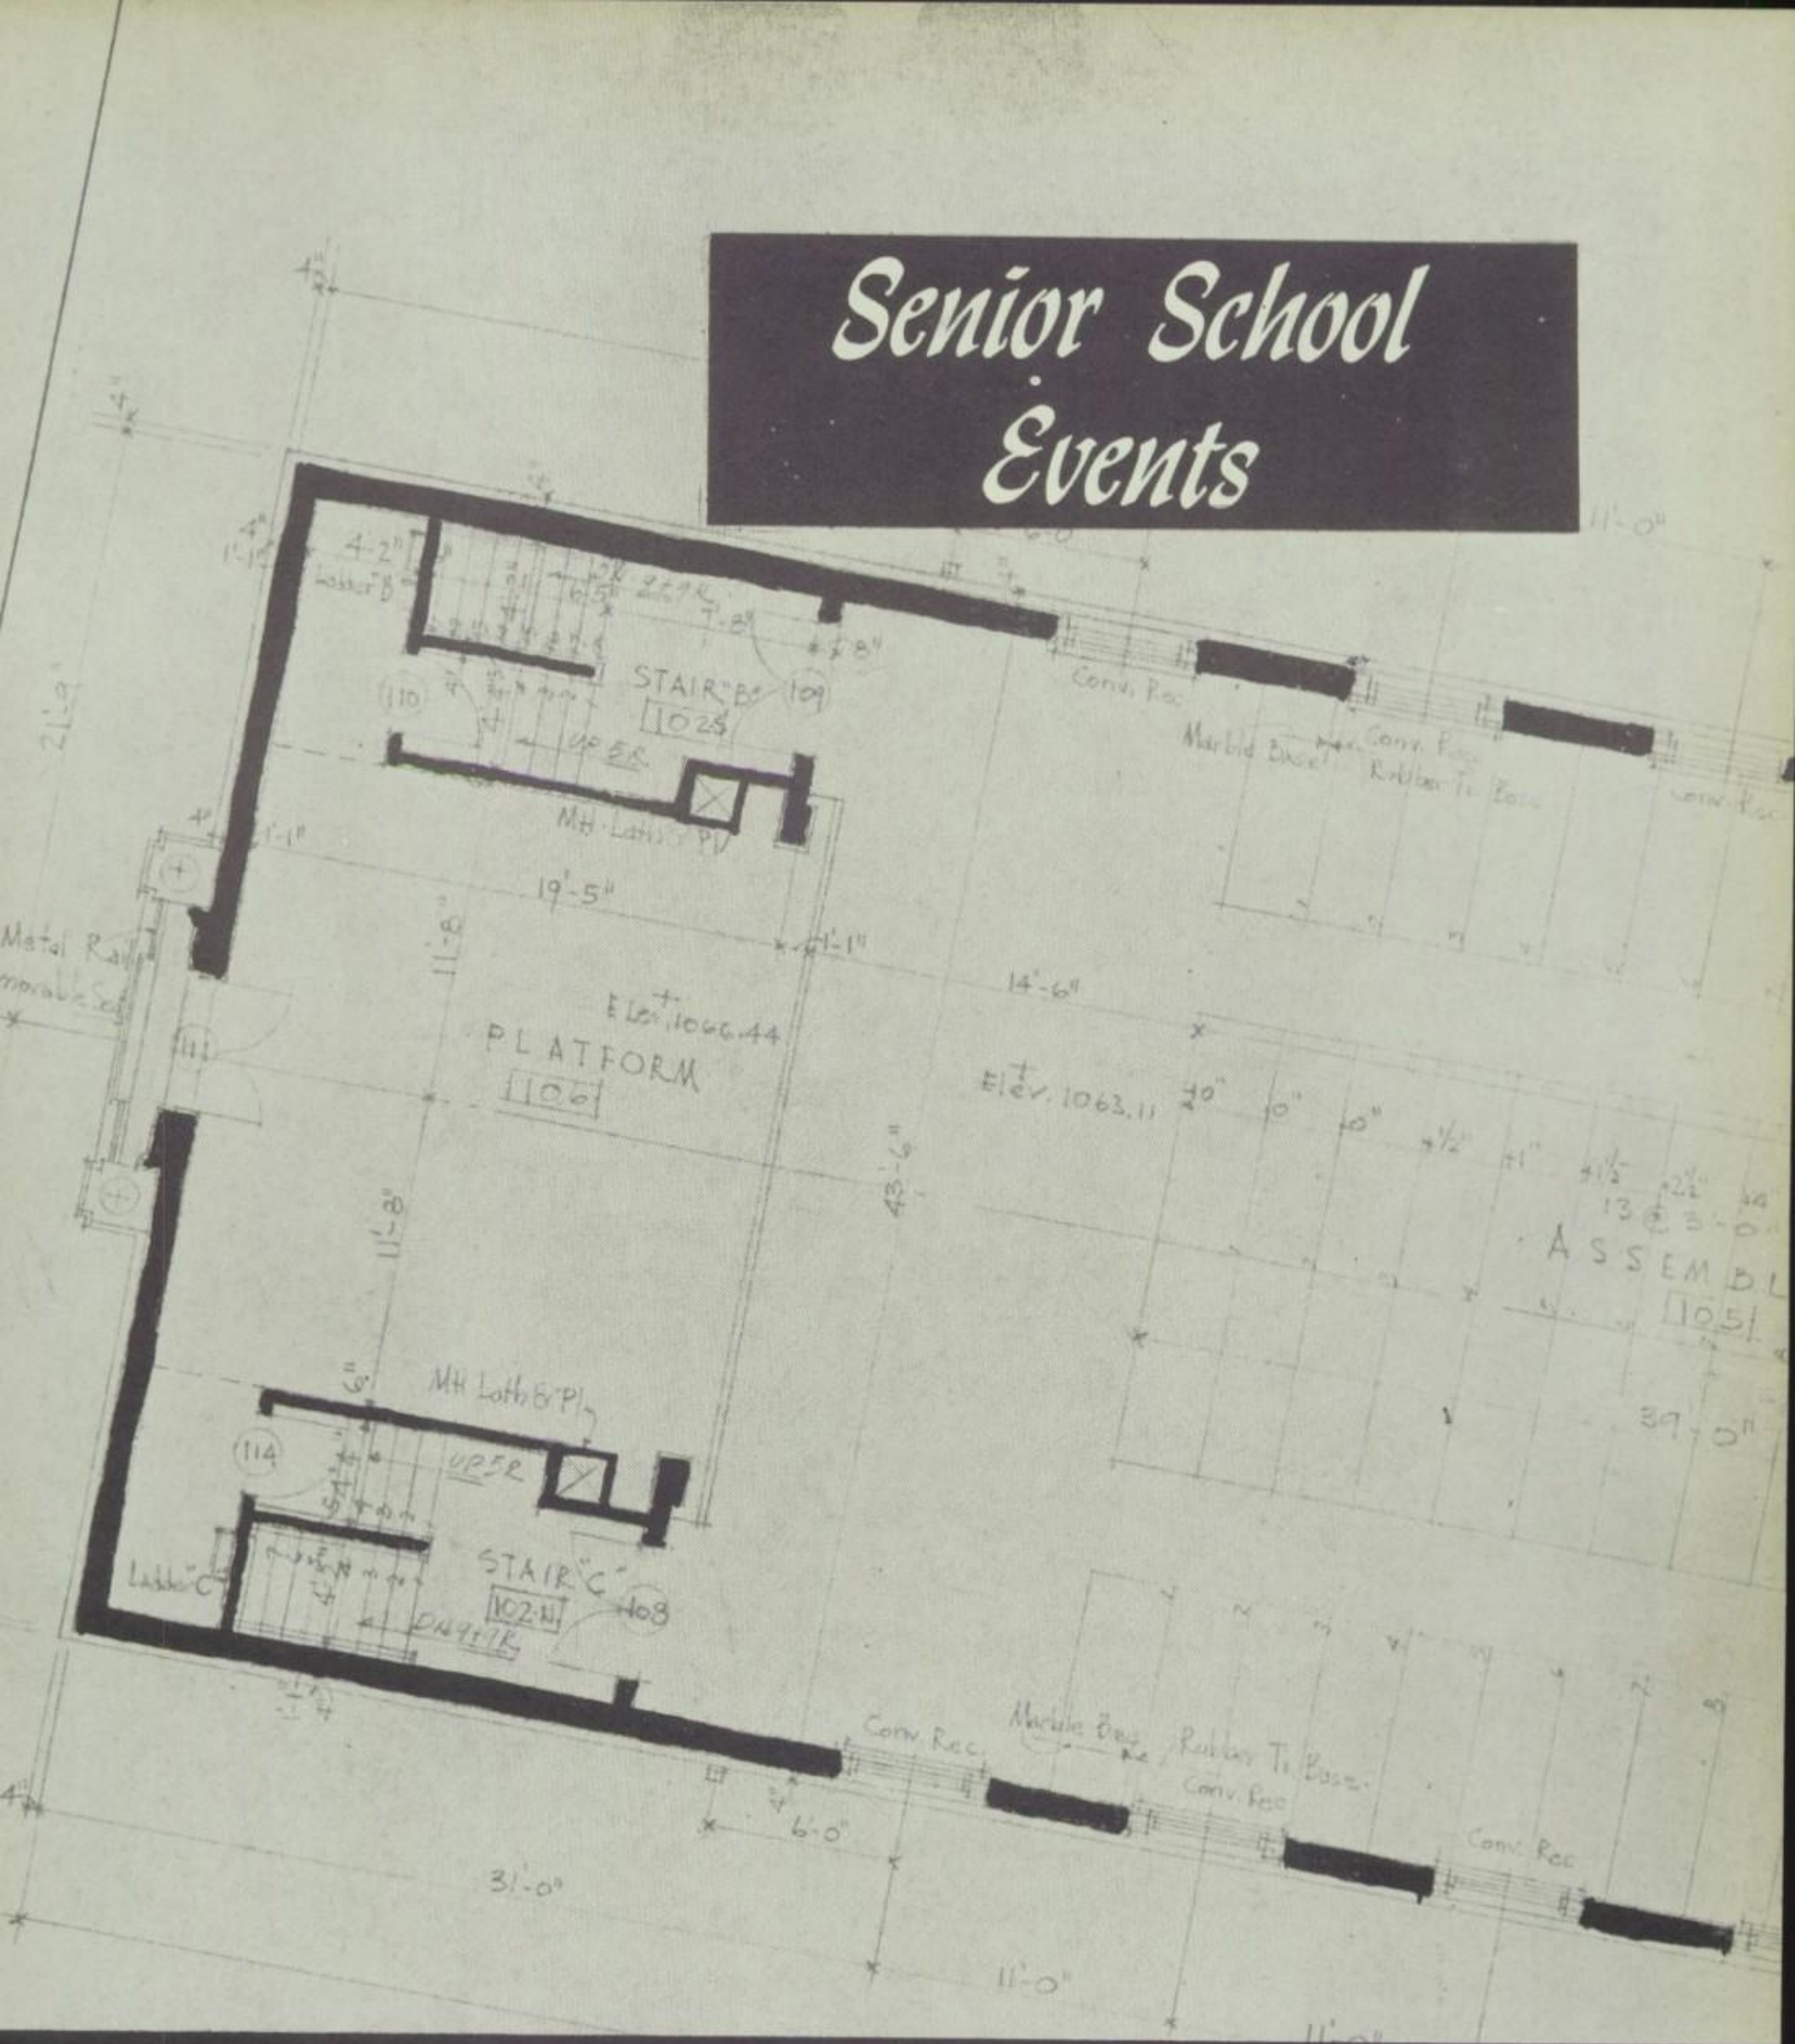

On March 15, foundations for Memorial Hall stood ready for the steel work . . .

. . . which was put in place within the week. Note the beams for the proscenium arch, under which future Shady Side chapel speakers and thespians will stand . . .

Senior School Events

Memories in the making!

HOME – COMING

Tea, talk, parent-teacher conferences . . . these characterize the annual alumni-sponsored tea in Curry Gymnasium . . .

At the Alumni tea following the games Mrs. Byron G. Waldrop (right) and her husband, master emeritus in Latin, chat with Mr. and Mrs. Reichenbach . . .

Reunion with old friends . . .

The luncheon, an innovation, brought more than six hundred parents and alumni to the game early . . .

Inspecting Croft Hall displays, the Stremms and Thorpes register approval . . .

Checking up young Jim's French, Mr. and Mrs. James Crawford talk with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Buker (right) . . .

youthful spirit.*

Coach Jones, worried as University threatens, approaches Wirts, while Mr. Yost gives hurried defense instructions to Connell . . .

OCT. 31, 1953

Mesdames Wilkison, Gregory, Alexander, Howard, Lewis, Berg, and Laub review the campus news at Mrs. Follansbee's Wednesday morning coffee . . . Mrs. Berg holds little Christine Gregory . . .

Parties, dances, feeds . . .

Old Santa Vorce didn't fail the Ellsworth boys . . .
House President Bill Kirkpatrick is Santa's helper

It's only a paper moon . . . but the dolls are real at Ellsworth's Halloween Dance . . .

Horner and Coyle give Duncan Gray (in Bermuda shorts) directions for dusting the flag pole . . . Miscellaneous big wheels clutter up the foreground . . .

give informal fun and relaxation.

Duff and Shenkan accompany Witherow to a tea party . . . Kuhns and Half, wholly amused, complete the entourage . . .

Who threw that dummy, dummy? . . . Yahoo Adams and Ferd Harold, natch . . .

SENIOR PROM

Light on their feet, haven't they?

Dancing, glancing, romancing . . .

The cherubs will get ya' if ya don't watch out—Bill Leroy's bass fiddler is in 'cute danger . . .

Romantic and rapturous . . .

Pale blue chandelier under dark blue canopy . . . Main motif in a scheme of elegance . . .

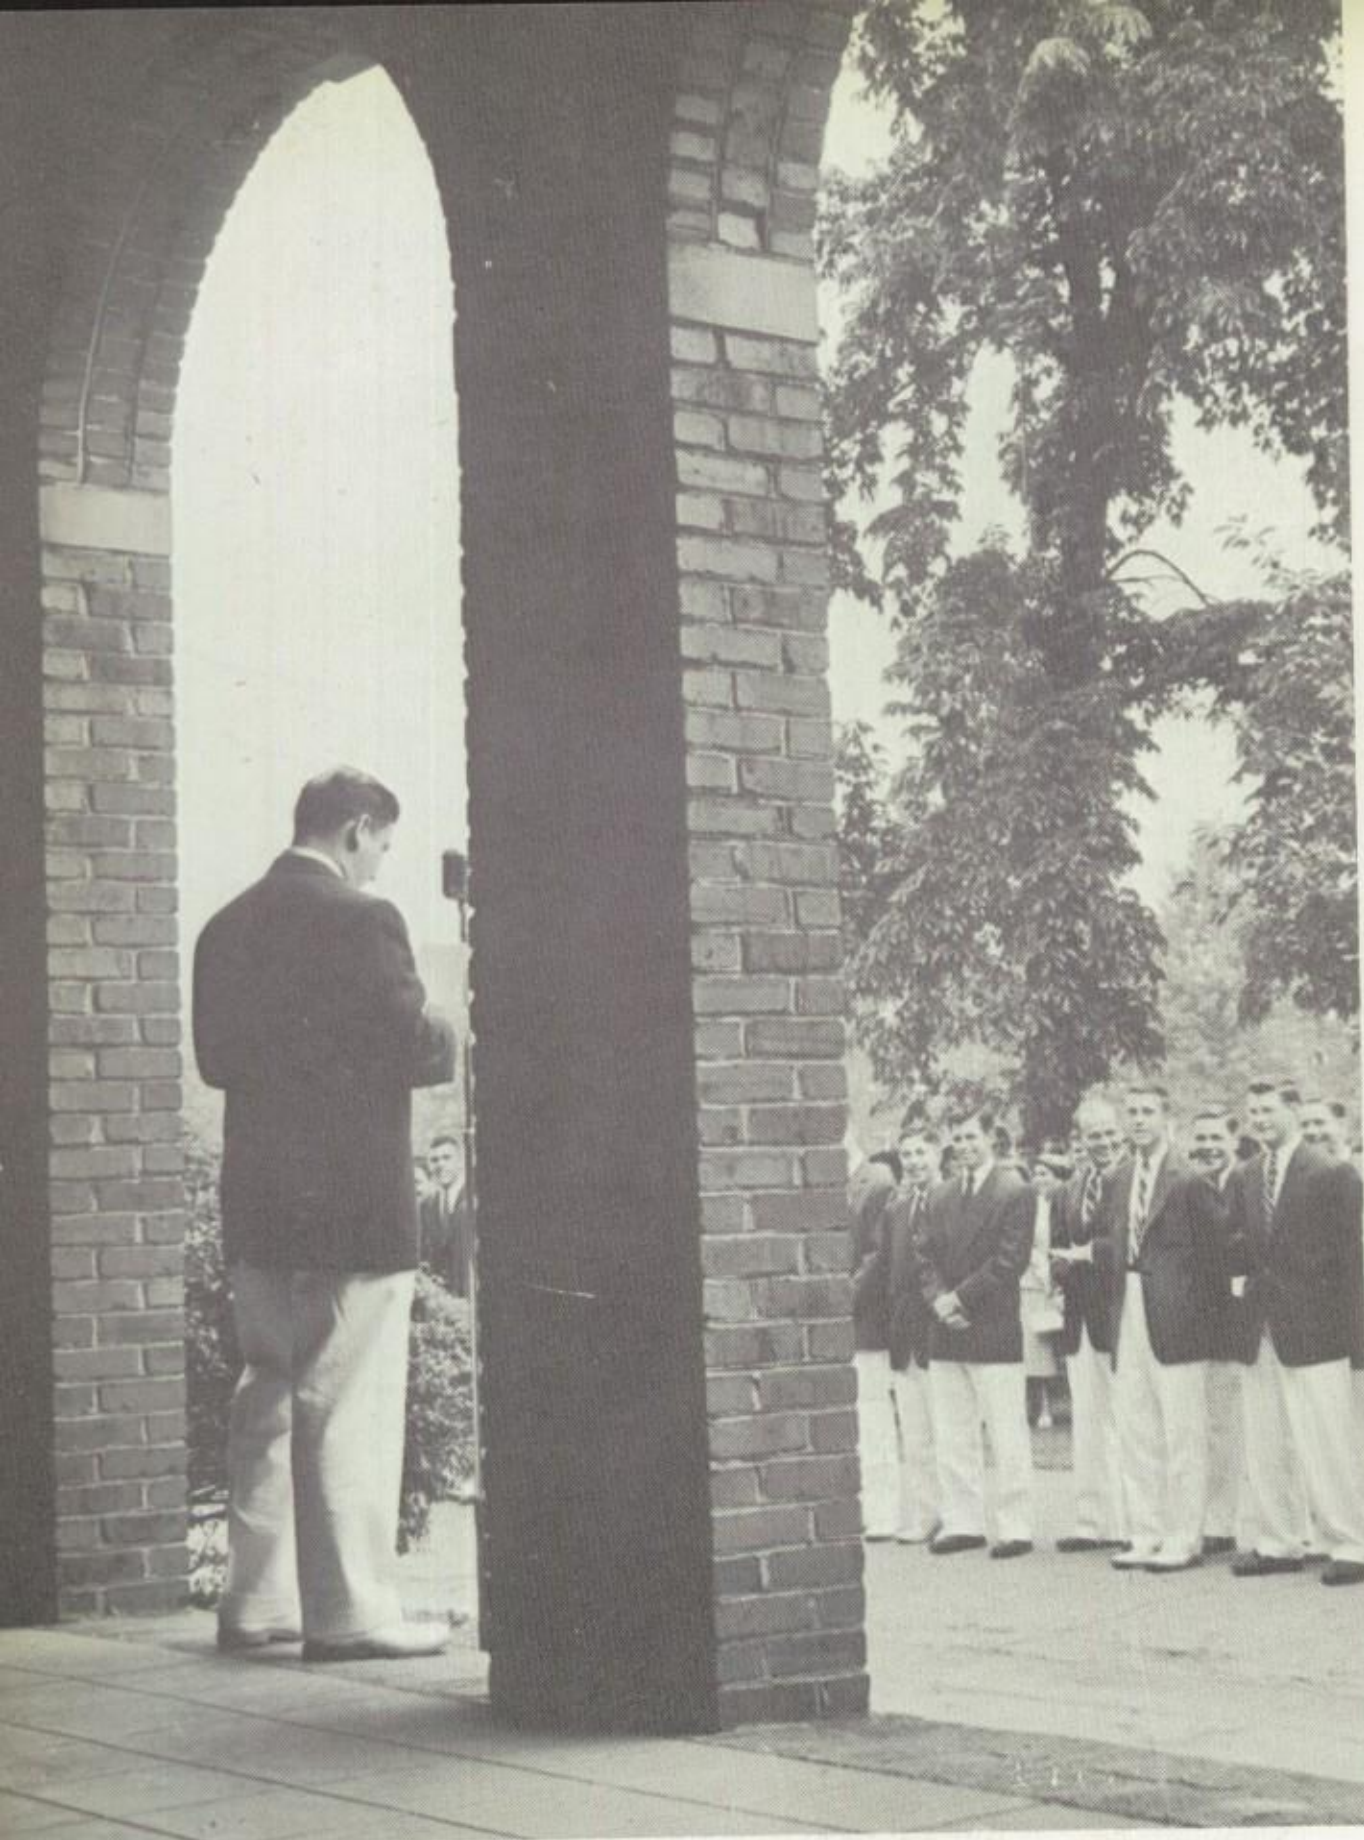

Shy but proud, Sam Robb beams as his date, Gladys Yates, is crowned Senior Queen . . .

Isn't it amazing what $10 dollars worth of cheese cloth will do!

Annual social highlight . . .

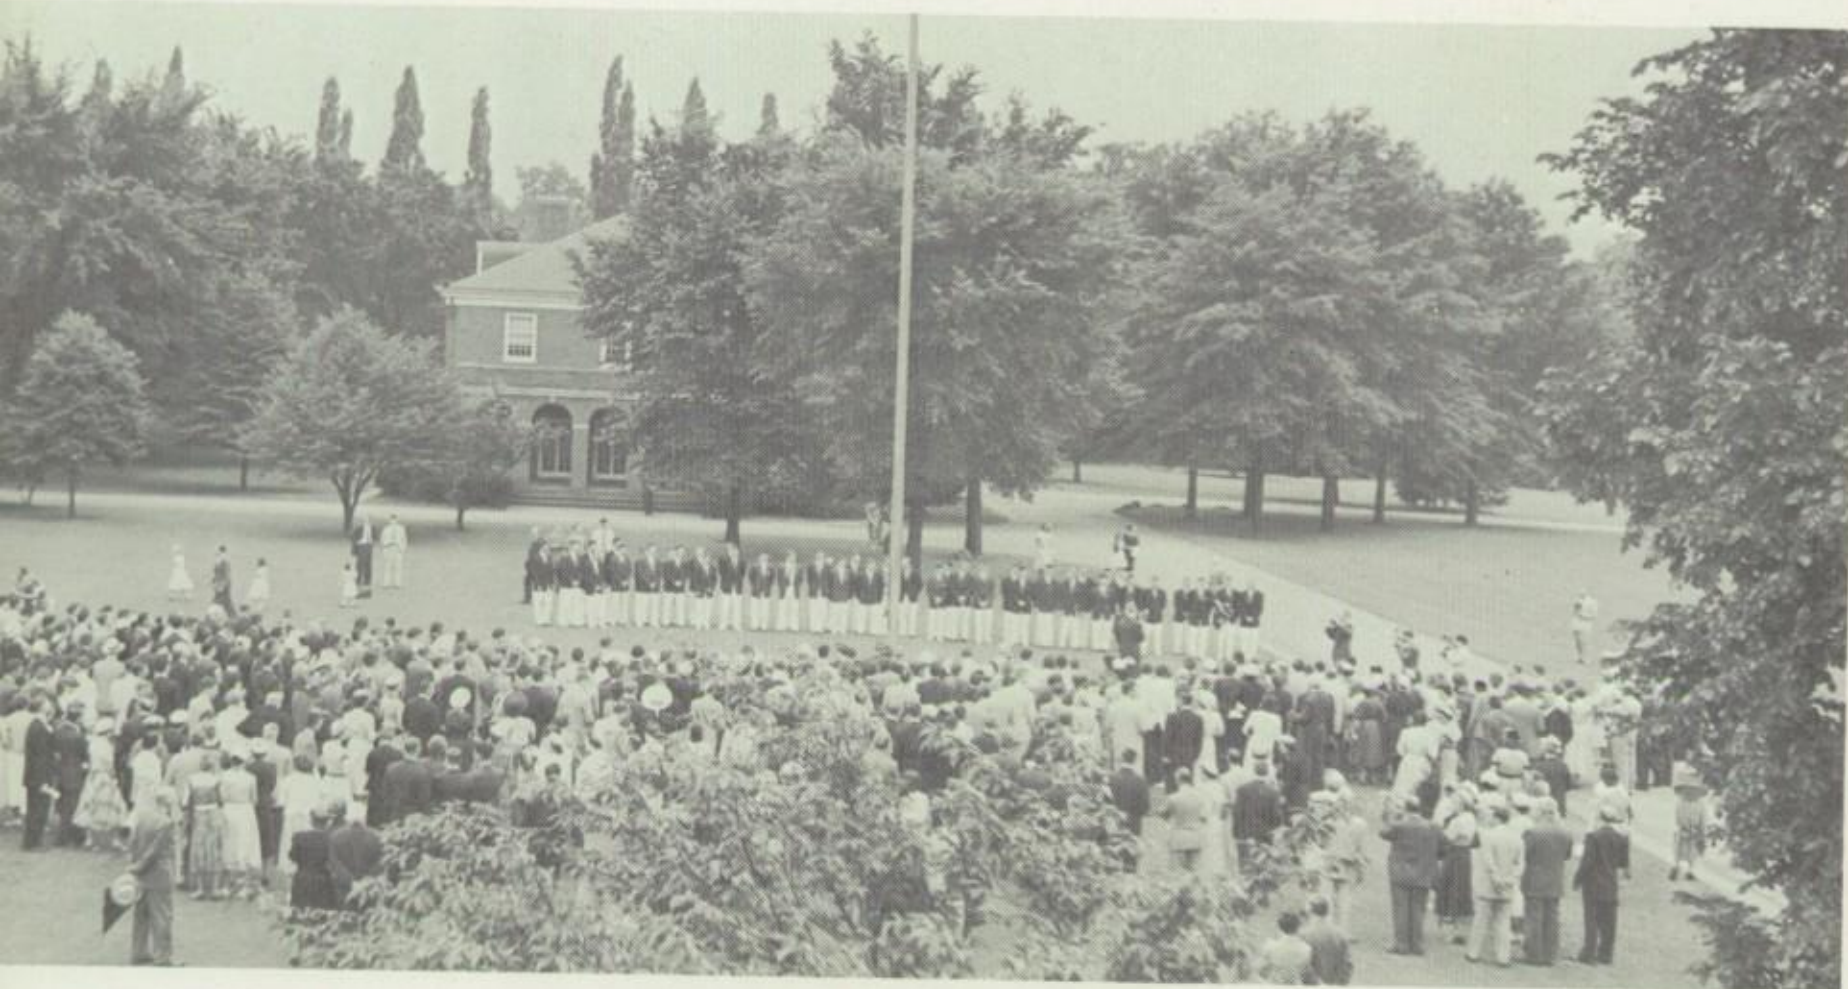

From the steps of Ellsworth

Jay Conte ('53) gives the class history—traditional part of Class Day, preceding Commencement . . .

CLASS DAY

Among others, Ned Boshell, Dave Alpern, and Eddie Evans—all of the Class of '53—stand at Commencement to receive Cum Laude membership . . .

On the Senior Quadrangle the crowd gathers for Class Day Exercises . . .

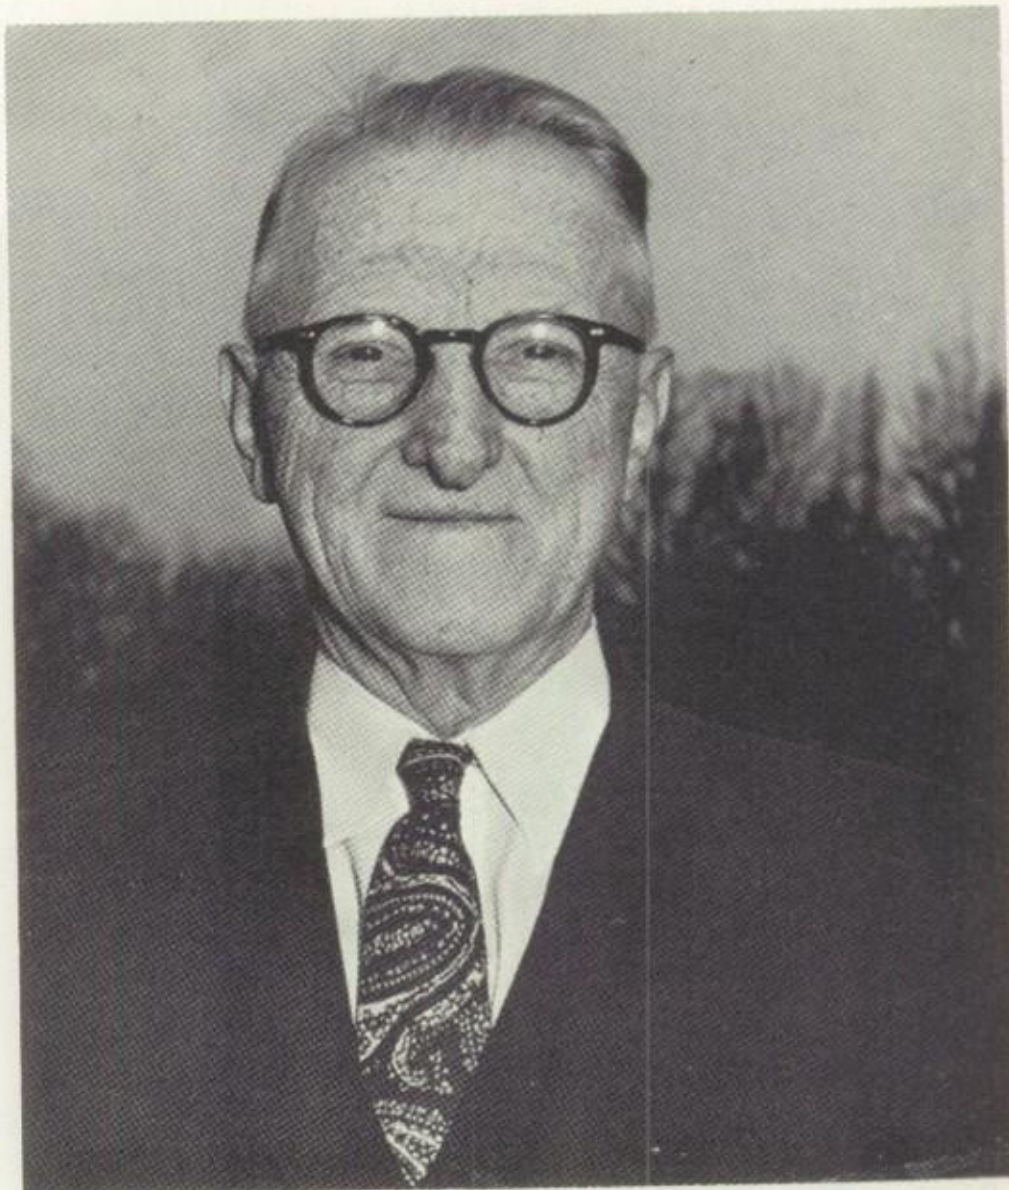

William F. Kirkpatrick, President of the Class of '54, speaks after receiving the school seal from Richard C. Repp, president of the graduating class . . .

Firmly founded—boys move on.

A TRIBUTE

MERLE M. ALEXANDER

After thirty-six years of service to Shady Side, Mr. Merle M. Alexander retires. The Dean has been intimately connected with the growth of the Academy from a school housed in one building, to a thriving day and boarding school with two campuses. In performing his duties as an admissions officer, he has been in a key position; in his work with the alumni he has been highly influential in building up alumni support for Academy projects. As head of the science department, he has prepared hundreds of boys for intensive study of the sciences at the college level; as Dean he has insisted always upon gentlemanly conduct, usually in a quiet manner, but occasionally with an effective flash of temper.

That the Dean and Mrs. Alexander have always been popular with young faculty and alumni is ample indication of their youthful spirit. Mrs. Alexander has devoted large amounts of time and energy to helping the Dean with alumni business and affairs. The campus family and the alumni will indeed miss them both.

We sincerely hope that the Alexanders' new leisure will not take them far from the sphere of Shady Side.

A FAREWELL

DONALD ANGUS HOLDING

In a swimming accident last summer, Donald Angus Holding died.

There is no way to soften the words, or make them say anything else. He is gone, and with him goes some of the earnestness and inspiration he brought to the activities of Shady Side.

In his three years at the Senior School, Don rarely, if ever, missed the honor roll. He was an all-round athlete, having been a valuable member of the varsity soccer squad in the fall, a varsity wrestler in the winter, and in the spring, a two-year letterman on the golf squad.

Don was also an active participant in extracurricular activities. He was a writer for the News and a member of the Glee Club. An active member of the Photography Club for two years, he was slated to be a photographer for both the News and the Academician.

In manner, Don was always vivacious and active. He had a keen sense of humor, a genuine appreciation of justice, and habits of thoughtfulness and accuracy—all qualities which generally presage notable lives during years of maturity.

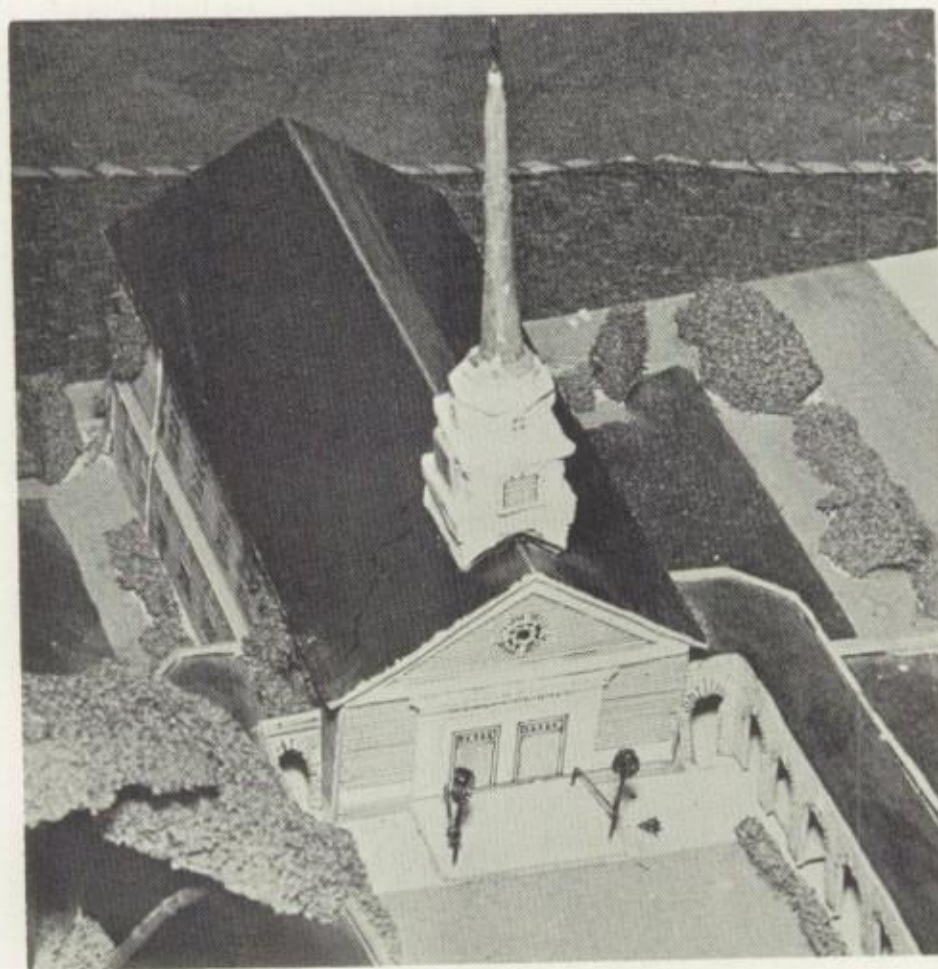

The loss to his family and friends is incalculable. But there is no way to soften the words or make them say anything else.

We lost Don Holding, the boy, on July 20, 1953. His memory remains!

Pittsburgh's Point Project—now being developed . . .

Pittsburgh — Shady Side. Reborn, both move forward!

Memorial Hall—now under construction.

Advertisements

The billion-dollar renaissance of Pittsburgh would be meaningless and indeed impossible without the backing of the city's industry. With new confidence business houses and industrial concerns have invested millions to expand facilities and broaden services.

To a certain extent dependent upon and sensitive to Pittsburgh's economy, Shady Side catches and reflects the changes in the city's spirit. With the resurgence of the city and its accompanying optimism, Shady Side—fully aware of its responsibilities and opportunities—moves forward!

Here's a simple equation:

NO HIGH ALLOY STEEL = NO PLANE

Without stainless steel, super-high-temperature steels and special electrical alloys, it just wouldn't be possible to build, power and control a plane in the over-600-miles-per-hour class. That is our job: to develop and produce such metals . . . and if you have any problems that involve resisting corrosion, heat, wear and great stress, or require special magnetic properties, we're the people to see. Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation, Oliver Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pa.

The Uniformity of Gauge in

MicroRold®

STAINLESS STEEL SHEETS

PROVIDES

More stainless area per ton
Excellent surface finish

MicroRold stainless steel is rolled to exceptionally close tolerances in continuous form with micro-accuracy and uniformity of gauge throughout the entire length and width. This "Thinness Control" offers many advantages in both application and fabrication. "Thinness Control" gives you more stainless area per ton or an equivalent area with lesser weight, and a significant reduction in breakage. Lower polishing costs are obtained because of the excellence of surface conditions — which are dense, clean, smooth, and even.

Here's a simple equation:

NO HIGH ALLOY STEEL = NO PLANE

Without stainless steel, super-high-temperature steels and special electrical alloys, it just wouldn't be possible to build, power and control a plane in the over-600-miles-per-hour class. That is our job: to develop and produce such metals . . . and if you have any problems that involve resisting corrosion, heat, wear and great stress, or require special magnetic properties, we're the people to see. Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation, Oliver Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pa.

The Uniformity of Gauge in

MicroRold®

STAINLESS STEEL SHEETS

PROVIDES

More stainless area per ton

Excellent surface finish

MicroRold stainless steel is rolled to exceptionally close tolerances in continuous form with micro-accuracy and uniformity of gauge throughout the entire length and width. This "Thinness Control" offers many advantages in both application and fabrication. "Thinness Control" gives you more stainless area per ton or an equivalent area with lesser weight, and a significant reduction in breakage. Lower polishing costs are obtained because of the excellence of surface conditions — which are dense, clean, smooth, and even.

Builders of Memorial Hall . . .

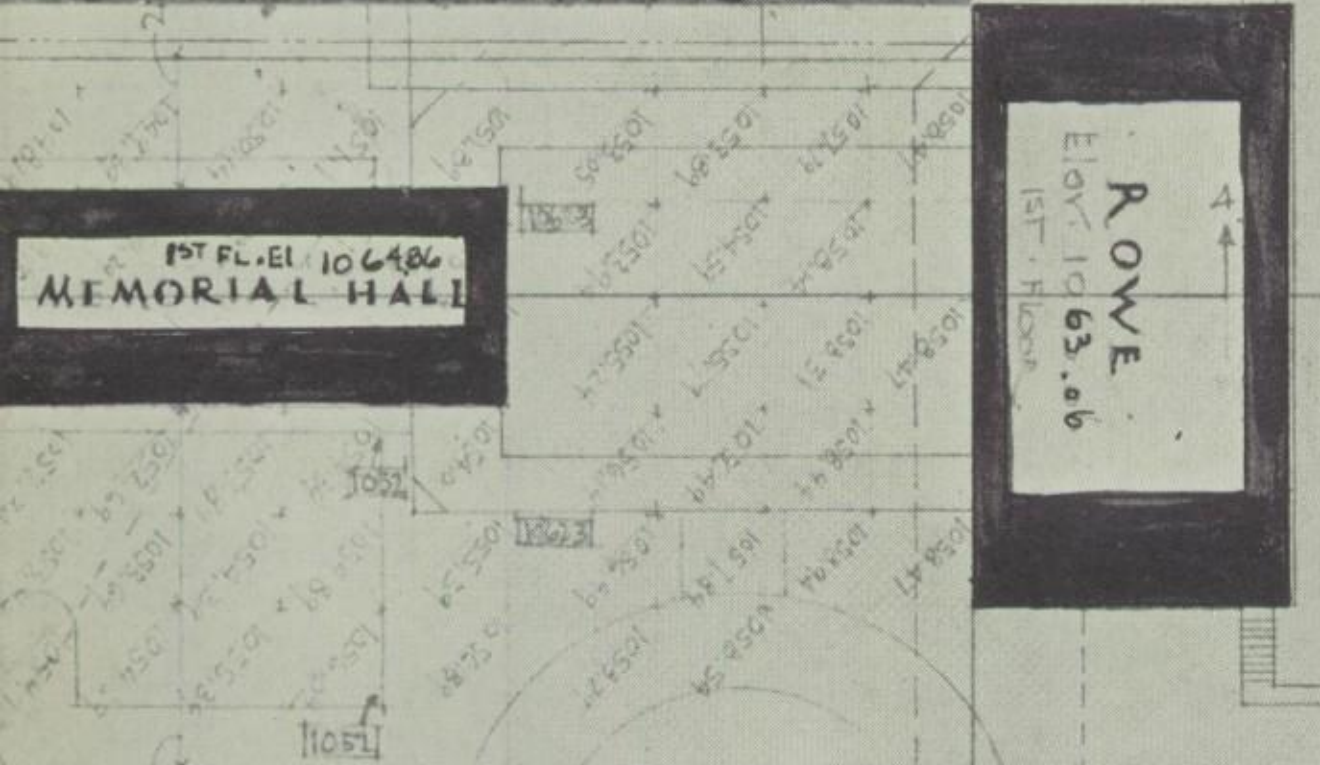

North
Scale 1"=50'

November, 1951, heralded the official announcement of Shady Side's plans to construct Memorial Hall, dedicated to the fifty-two alumni who gave their lives in both World Wars and the Korean conflict. The first spade of dirt was turned on Commencement Day, June 12, 1953, and actual construction began November 12. With the arrival of spring, construction moved rapidly ahead toward the projected November, 1954 completion date.

Memorial Hall will serve mainly as a place of assembly, supplanting the inadequate Rowe Hall chapel. The meeting room itself will provide seating for 310. Incorporated into this room will be sorely needed audio-visual facilities. Also featured will be indirect lighting, hot and cold air conditioning, and a complete speaker system. The main hall will be trimmed in the traditional school colors, gold and blue. A lounge room, located in the basement, will be set aside as an additional meeting place, with provisions made for the addition of a kitchen. Sound-proof music rooms will be built along the west wall of the 106 foot passageway joining Memorial and Rowe Halls.

Planned for the future are twin colonnades running from the new building to Rowe. It is also hoped that work on a new $110,000 science wing, adjacent to the passageway, will be started in the very near future.

Long-standing customers, both yearbook staffs and advisors, are enthusiastic over the Keller yearbook program because experience has proved that application of its various services has made the job pleasant, easy, and gratifying.

Our intimate method of yearbook counsel and assistance, based upon continual service, is governed by a sincere desire to maintain the reputation that every Keller book is distinctive and custom-built. Many, as a result, win top critical awards.
